Local business obeys 'dim out' order

Arlington Heights business men, industries, ministers and others are obeying dimout restrictions. All stores close at six o'clock. No lights are in use if a store is open during the day.

Emerald Cleaners is operating three days only, closing Wednesday evening for the balance of the week, although the office will be open. Machinery can not be operated.

Arlington Seating, E. W. A. Rowles Co. and Creamery Package are operating the first 3 days of the week, closing Wednesday evening.

Some of the churches are eliminating all evening meetings.

Arlington Heights high school and the elementary schools have postponed all evening activities. The band concert will probably be held Sunday afternoon, May 19.

Lights out at village hall

The municipal building is cooperating on the dimout. The library closes at six o'clock; special meetings of village officials are kept to a minimum and few lights are used during the day. Members of the fire department expected to decorate their quarters the other evening. Custodian Firnbach told them "no soap" and they went home.

Garages on 4-hour schedule

No current of any kind is being used in garages except between two and six o'clock five days a week.

Gas stations without auxiliary power and hand operated pumps are selling gas only between the hours of two and six daily. Beauty shops are using electric current only four hours a day.

Restaurants and food stores who are exempt are cutting electrical consumption down to a minimum.

Printers also quit

The commercial printing department of Paddock Publications is operating on three day schedule, Monday, Tuesday and Friday. The entire printing and publishing plant, except business and Western Union office is closed Saturdays.

Alderman Rizzi given military honors at funeral

Funeral services were held Monday morning at St. James Catholic Church, Arlington Heights for Alderman Rudolph J. Rizzi, who had passed away May 2 at his home 102 South Dunton avenue. The deceased had served five years as a member of the board of trustees, was a veteran of World War I, a past commander of the V. F. W., member of Merle Guild Post American Legion, and Lions Club. He was a past president of the Holy Name Society and a former trustee of St. James Church.

The service that Mr. Rizzi gave to his country during World War I was recognized by an honor guard stationed by Arlington Heights Post No. 981 Veterans of Foreign Wars around the casket at the Lauterberg & Oehler chapel Sunday evening. Military honors from the impressive V. F. W. ritual were given at St. Joseph's cemetery, Aurora, where the remains were laid to rest. At the conclusion of the service there was not a dry eye among the spectators. The service represented the supreme honor that can be paid by fellow comrades to the memory of one who had served his country well.

Mayor pays tribute

The municipal flag was flown at half mast from the day of his death to the time of the burial. Mayor Goedke at the village board meeting Monday evening, alluded to the service that the deceased had given his community with:

"We, the members of the village board and the people of the community are going to miss Rudolph J. Rizzi, a trustee, who was always willing to do his official duty and never said 'no' when called upon for help. He was our personal friend as well as a member of our official family. He had a lot of friends in all walks of life and we join them in extending our sympathy to the bereaved family."

Mr. Rizzi was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage Feb. 5 a few hours after a village board meeting. He was at once removed to Elmhurst hospital where he lay in a coma for a time but later sufficiently recovered, although partially paralyzed, to be taken to his home where he has been with his family although confined to his bed since March 6.

Deceased was born in Chicago July 24, 1891, which was his home until 1932 when he came to Arlington Heights. He married Miss Marie Uselding August 3, 1920. During the first world war he served a year in Europe as a member of the 42nd infantry, rainbow division.

There remain, his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Vance Folkman, grandaughter, Patricia and three sisters, Mrs. Magdalene Mayer, Berkley, Calif., Mrs. Marie Bell, Chicago and Mrs. Hulda Bodient, Palos Park.

Solemn requiem high mass was participated in by Rev. Geo. J. Stier as celebrant, Rev. Freitag, S. V. D. as deacon and Rev. Al Stier as sub-deacon.

Presbyterians to burn mortgage on 90th anniversary

The officers and members of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church will burn their mortgage Friday evening, May 17, at a Building Fund Retirement Jubilee. It means that the church organization has succeeded in retiring all bonds and subsequent indebtedness resulting from the addition and church building changes made shortly prior to the depression.

Henry F. Mueller, who has acted as treasurer of the building fund since 1937 when existing bonds were refinanced, has issued a report showing that the total obligations facing the congregation nine years ago with subsequent interest was $50,435.71. That entirely has been paid in full, $10,000 by adjustments and the balance by subscriptions, building income, etc.

Rev. Brown to deliver address

Henry S. Brown, vice president of the Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, New Jersey, will deliver the address. Rev. Brown is one of the outstanding ministers in the Presbyterian church of this country and has served as pastor of many large churches and held important positions in Presbyterian church councils and has been with the Princeton Theological seminary 9 years.

A Victory Dinner at 6:45 will open the evening's program. Reading of greetings from those unable to be present will be followed by the introduction of members of the board of trustees of 1935-38.

The burning of a facsimile of the mortgage will be done by members of the board of trustees of 1937-38: Henry F. Muller, C. E. McWharter, Wm. Mueller, Albert E. Goldthwaite, assisted by three women who have been identified with the church many years, Mrs. E. A. Elfeld, Mrs. Cyrus Draper and Mrs. Samuel Fehlman.

The dinner is being served by a Chicago caterer (price $1.50) and it will be necessary that all tickets be purchased before May 12.

The church board extends an invitation to all friends of the church to attend the Victory Dinner and help celebrate the noteworthy occasion.

Plan Memorial Day

Plans for a Memorial Day celebration in Arlington Heights have been initiated by the V. F. W. and the American Legion who will be in joint charge of the program. All organizations which desire to participate in the exercises should contact Forrest Davis, commander of the V. F. W. immediately as a full program is contemplated.

Music festival at Arlington high changed to May 19

Because of dim-out regulations, the date of the Festival of Music, sponsored by the music department of the Arlington Heights township high school, has been changed from Tuesday evening, May 14, to Sunday afternoon, May 19, at 3:00 o'clock.

Arlington makes bid for navy airport

"Fly to Chicago and back, and save two hours a day." "Let us fly you to your favorite vacation spot." "Youngsters: Learn to fly — let Dad have the car." These words might well be the advertising slogans of an aerial flying school sitting on the doorstep of Arlington Heights, a municipal airport.

Daily hops to Chicago for business men, stenographers and shoppers, and flying lessons for the new generation which is demanding to fly an airplane, may become realities and not idle talk.

Keeping step with an aerial minded world, the Arlington Hts. Chamber of Commerce is bidding for the naval auxiliary air field here. When the navy releases the field, Arlington Heights will have first chance to annex the airport as an outright gift from the government.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a special committee with the job of letting the proper government agencies know that Arlington Heights is "interested" in accepting the gift, and also in learning what is to be done with it when presented. The committee is investigating the answers to the questions that will arise when the proposal is placed before the village board which must take final action.

Although the navy is expected to terminate its flight training program the first of July, the airport cannot be "given away" until it is definitely released by the navy. However, the committee has learned that municipalities will have the first opportunity to accept or reject an airport grant. It is part of the government's plan to encourage the development of aviation by the state and municipalities.

Once the airport is presented to the village, the government will not turn "Indian giver" unless another war should be declared or if the village should refuse to maintain it properly.

Although the control of the airport rests with he village, the actual operation will be handled by airport operators selected by the board.

George Hardtke of Chicago, has been investigating for the committee, the possibilities and responsibilities that will accrue the village board and reports as follows: "The operators will be licensed and will have their own schools, instructors, repair shops, and equipment. Contracts will also be let for parking of planes, sale of gasoline and management of cafeteria. Such contracts with the village will yield more than enough to maintain and improve the land and buildings."

A few of the local air enthusiasts are already making plans to keep private planes at the airfield. One local resident with business in Chicago expects to fly to and from Chicago daily in his own plane. The state is doing its part in giving aviation a hand by appropriating 2½ million dollars for improvement of air field under municipal control.

The air field is located on Central road, southwest of Arlington Heights, consisting of 188 acres, half of which is owned by the government, the balance being leased.

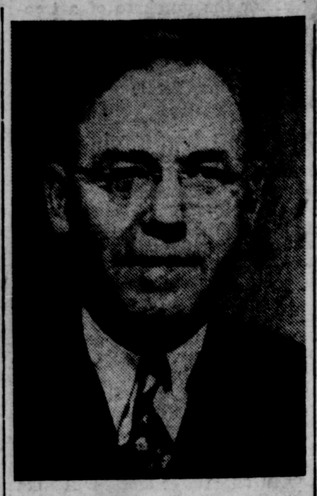

Federal and state authorities expect that a network of such air fields will soon be spread every few miles throughout the country, making aviation a safe and popular means of travel for business and pleasure.

Three car robbery

When Carl Hempleman, 1940 Kedzie ave., Chicago, stopped his car on the Chicago west side Friday evening at 5:45 to give two hitch hikers a ride, he did not know that it was to be a three car robbery (and possibly more).

Records of the sheriff police reveal that the two hikers, with the aid of a 45-calibre gun, forced Hempleman out of his own car near the Buick plant. The bandits then evidently picked up two companions, proceeded to Arlington Heights where at 8:30 they stole the car of S. R. Paddock. The original stolen car was driven to Dundee road near the farm of Wilbur Pohlman, half mile east of Arlington Heights road where it was met by car No. 2, which in the meantime had been used in a hold-up at 9:00 p. m. near the Des Plaines post-office when Chas. LaMamtia lost $90 in cash.

When the two cars met at the Pohlman place at 9:30 p. m. car No. 1 was abandoned and the occupants drove to the Chicago northside, where Car No. 2 was abandoned and car No. 3 was stolen and driven to Elmwood Park for robbery No. 2. There was some shooting there, but the car made its escape. Both holdup victims said they were robbed by three men.

ALDERMAN R. J. RIZZI, who was buried with military honors Monday.

Gasoline keeps theater open in Arlington

Don Knapp, manager of Arlington Theatre has been able to beat the "dimout" by the installation of auxiliary power, and it is one of the few theatres in this area which is open.

It has been necessary to go to single features, giving two programs each night, at seven and nine o'clock.

The manner that the auxiliary power was found is an interesting story. Craig-Meyers Welding Service offered his equipment which is on wheels and each evening is brought to the theatre. Th power is used for the arc projection lights.

The theatre has purchased an A-C generator which provides the current for the sound, the amplifier, and some lighting. Herman Hinz provided a small generator for the lobby and marquee lights.

And to safeguard against a blackout due to failure of the emergency power, the theatre management has secured a number of lights that operate from batteries, which will be turned on if the theatre audience is left in the dark.

Seek more ideas for Arlington war memorial

The Arlington Heights War Memorial Committee named Carl M. Teutsch to head a fact finding committee to survey the facilities of this community. This survey will aid the committee in developing plans for a fitting War Memorial for Arlington Heights.

A Chicago newspaper last week carried the following item: "A sampling of public opinion among veterans indicates they prefer 'useful memorials' in the form of playgrounds, swimming pools, athletic fields and other projects designed to serve the entire community, the American Public Works association reported yesterday."

Following the appeal in last week's Herald, the public has already submitted some suggestions for a memorial, as follows: Community Hospital, Veterans Home, Public Library and Scoutcraft Center for boys and girls. The committee looks for a wide response to their invitation to the public o submit ideas for the War Memorial. Give as much detail as you wish.

Mail all suggestions to the War Memorial Committee, Village Hall, Arlington Heights, or leave them at the office of the Village Clerk.

Oral R. Cline is compiling a complete list of all veterans of this community, and he requests parents and veterans to send him any names of service men whose names do not appear on the Honor Roll displayed next to Green's Store. His phone number is Arlington Heights 1408-J.

Special village election nearly lost by 33-23 vote

The danger of lack of interest in an election on the part of the general public was demonstrated Tuesday when only 56 votes were cast on the validating of a tax rate needed by the municipality.

The proposition was only carried by ten votes — 33 to 23. The returns in the north precinct were 18 to 15 and in the south precinct 15 to 8.

Northwestern cancels 39 suburban trains

In order to conserve its diminishing coal supplies and to comply with Office of Defense Transportation orders, the Chicago and North Western Railway Company has discontinued operations of approximately 25 per cent of its suburban service between Chicago and suburbs to the north, northwest and west effective Wednesday, May 8.

The reduced suburban service will remain in force until further notice. Thirty-nine suburban trains operating at least five days a week will be taken out of service. In certain cases suburban trains remaining in operation will make additional stops. In all instances, the train withdrawals have been spread throughout the entire working day in order to prevent undue hardship for commuters.

Unless relief is obtained, further reductions in suburban service will take place May 15 equivalent to the mileage saved by the reductions effective Wednesday.

Those trains taken out of service, effective Wednesday, all on daylight saving time, are as follows:

Mayor's Proclamation

Because of the critical shortage of coal resulting from the nation-wide strike of bituminous coal miners, I, Albert Goedke, Mayor, hereby proclaim a state of emergency to exist in the Village of Arlington Heights and call upon all citizens to comply with the Order of the Illinois Commerce Commission dated May 1, 1946, requiring curtailment in the use of electricity.

The restrictions, necessary to protect electric service for public health and safety uses and protection of property, are effective immediately and call for a general curtailment of electricity.

Compliance with existing regulations is vital during this emergency and I urge all citizens to cooperate fully.

Signed:
ALBERT GOEDKE, Mayor
Village of Arlington Hgts.

Girls hurt when their motorcycle collides with car

Mrs. Charmion Neagle and Miss Alice Erickson, both of Palatine, were seriously injured early Saturday morning when their motorcycle collided with an automobile at the junction of rtes. 12 and 22. The girls were taken to Sherman hospital where Mrs. Neagle is in an especially serious condition with a fractured pelvis, and spine and internal injuries.

The girls were riding southeast on Rand road, rte. 12, about 1 a. m. when they collided with the westbound car on rte. 22 that reportedly failed to stop for the junction. The girls, driving their jointly-owned motorcycle, were the first to leave their cycle club's evening riding session. They had previously completed 48,000 miles of driving together without an accident.

Miss Erickson suffered a brain concussion and a serious leg injury, plus other lacerations.

Mrs. Neagle's husband, Orris, is still in the armed forces, and is stationed in Japan.

Arlington High School Board starts expansion program

Condemnation to double area of athletic field

Arlington Heights high school is seeking an additional 9½ acres as future development for general school and recreational purposes. At their request condemnations proceedings in the name of township trustees have been started against several blocks in Arlington Ridge.

In the meantime —

The village of Arlington Hgts. Monday night approved a resubdivision of Arlington Ridge and passed an ordinance vacating certain streets therein which, when properly delivered means that the developers of Arlington Ridge will hand over to the Arlington Park Board a deed for a four acre tract to be used either for recreational or park purposes.

The National Mortgage and Investment Co. which holds title to land in question has sold all except eight of the lots which the school board is seeking under condemnation proceedings.

Contracts have been let by the subdividers for the underground work needed on the streets, which are to be paved next year. This work included a large number of water and sewer house connections, rebuilding of catch basins, new outlets, etc.

Notices served

Righeimer & Righeimer, attorneys hired by the high school board to conduct the condemnation proceedings, advised the Herald Tuesday that notices of the court action had been issued to all known owners of the lots in question but that the case would probably not come to trial until next fall.

The township board of school trustees held three meetings and consulted an attorney of their own before passing the resolution presented by the high school board with a rider of their own that all costs, including their own attorney fees be charged to the building fund account of the high school. Attorney Edwin D. Lawler was retained by the board of trustees.

Realty company offers eight acres at $500 a lot

J. E. Shaffron, general manager of the National Mortgage and Investment Co., told the Herald Wednesday that the only direct negotiations between the school board and his company were nearly a year ago when, at the suggestion of Mr. Laurin, a conference was held. The realty company offered at that time to sell to the high school about eight acres of land at $500 a lot.

The board decided after an hour's discussion that it did not have the money to make the purchase and was not in a position to go into debt to acquire it.

The company then proceeded with the resubdividing of the property and made plans for the dedication of approximately four acres for park and school purposes. Mr. Shaffron says, "it is my opinion that Arlington Heights high school is growing to such an extent that it might be preferable for the school to purchase a second tract near Mt. Prospect or some other part of the district and operate a second school. Some pupils attending the school travel as much as nine miles.

"Additional elementary school facilities are needed in Arlington and it is for that reason that we have donated the four acre site for school and playground facilities."

Erection of 16 homes has been started, none of which, however, are in the condemnation area.

If the school board is successful in its proceedings the school tract will be separated from the park district tract by one block.

Residences at 610 and 710 No. Ridge are not included in the proceedings and their owners will not be molested, although both will be surrounded by the proposed recreation field.

Public Service thanks public

Britton I. Budd, president of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, today issued the following statement:

"The Public Service Company deeply appreciates the fine spirit of cooperation shown by industry, stores, movie theaters and others in putting into effect the necessary and difficult adjustments to conform to the order curtailing uses of electricity for the conservation of coal. Only the broad public welfare and the need for prolonging essential electric service for health, safety and property protection could possibly warrant such drastic restrictions. The sympathetic responses and the speed with which compliance is being accomplished is encouraging. The company will continue to do its utmost in the difficult task of administering this order."

Negro admits blame in fire fatal to horses

Gilbert Jones, 42, a negro watchman of the Maine Chance stables at Arlington Park race track, has admitted blame for the fire early Thursday morning, May 2, which killed 23 thoroughbreds valued at $500,000. His admission was given to the police after another negro claimed that he did not see the watchman around the place.

Jones' confession states that after starting an electric heater he had gone to the stall occupied by Joseph Carter where he drank whiskey and fell asleep some time prior to the fire.

It was payday for the employees of the stable. 'Nuf said.

At a hearing held Thursday, Jones was found guilty of gross negligence and fined $50.00. Carter was judged guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $5.00.

The fire was discovered by William Bayton, a groom, and James Smith, a trainer, who were sleeping in the stable. The fire started at 12:30 a. m.

Telephone operators received the calls at 12:30. Within a few minutes the Palatine and Arlington Heights fire departments were on the scene. They found, however, that the entire barn was down, with the exception of the sleeping quarters on the south end. Some of the colored employees who occupied the barn, escaped wearing only their B. V. D.'s.

Chief Jahn of Arlington Hgts. stated that the fire hydrants were handy and there was plenty of water. Firemen can not understand how the fire reached such proportions before they were called.

The horses were owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, owner of the Maine Chance Farm. The most prized of the horses to die, it was reported, was War Admiral's colt. The other, worth $32,000, was Gay Emperor, police said.

Will call special election for school addition

Arlington Heights high school has had growing pains to such an extent that it has become necessary for the school board to seek authority of the tax payers to issue bonds that will make possible the erection of an addition to the building. Petitions are now being circulated asking that the election be called.

Plans for the additions are not yet complete, but they will be submitted to the public before voters will be asked to give their approval of the bonds. Architects are expected to have them ready within the next ten days.

If approved by the voters, this will be the third addition to the school since its original erection in 1922. The increase in enrollment has made necessary additional room while bonds totaling $114,000 for previous additions are still outstanding.

Increased assessed valuations with the million dollars worth of new homes will be an aid in keeping tax rates down.

Police work fast when motorist has car trouble in Calif.

Police in California work fast when they discover an unattended car on the roadside. Arlington Heights police received a wire from California this week asking if a car found in that state had been stolen from its owner. The police investigated and learned that Allen Henken had driven the car to California and when he experienced engine trouble he had left it on the road while he went for help. Allen resides at 304 Fairview.

Garden Club plans spring festival

The Arlington Heights Garden Club invites the general public to their First Annual Spring Festival and card party May 17, at the Arlington Heights Field house at 8 p.m. An enjoyable and entertaining evening is assumed for all who come.

Taken for a ride

Bessie lives to tell the tale after hectic trip

Bessie was taken for a ride and lived to tell the tale!

That is the story of Bessie of Palatine, kidnaped in Arlington Heights, taken for a ride in Des Plaines, and found in Chicago.

Bessie had been around plenty in the eight years of her life. She'd been to Canada and down to the Smokies once. She'd gone to Miami one winter. And she'd even had a fight with a cow one night in the spring of '41, coming out "second-best".

But still Bessie was dissatisfied. She wanted excitement — the real kind you see in the movies and hear over the radio.

She wanted to be the Lone Ranger and chase bad men over the hills.

She wanted to be superman and fly through the heavens faster than the speed of light. She wanted to be another gangbuster and live a life of peril.

Friday night Bessie got her wish. She was kidnapped.

As Bessie was standing at the curb in Arlington Heights just after sundown she was whisked away by unknown persons to excitement she never dreamed existed.

Away she went at more than 50 miles an hour, stopping in Des Plaines. It was there she aided "real gangsters" in robbing a man of $90.

It was there she made another quick getaway that fairly burned her heart out with the thrill of almost flying to Chicago.

Then, alas! She was abandoned. She was dropped like a hot potato on the northwest side of Chicago.

And hot she was! Her insides were burning up, her feet were tired and worn, her throat had developed a cough.

It was then that Bessie decided excitement was not meant for her. As she sat out those long night hours she gave up all desire for any more thrills.

And happy she was when brought back home Saturday morning, still aching and coughing, but vowing never again to stray.

Her name? Bessie Buick.

Redwings host to Woodstock this Sunday

Braving unfavorable weather conditions, the largest opening day crowd to ever see the Redwings inaugurate a baseball season watched the local team skid through a muddy field to defeat Dundee 1-0 last Sunday.

While Schaefer was holding the opposition scoreless the Redwings found the high wind working to Dundee's advantage. On two occasions with men on base, local boys hit long balls labeled with homerun tickets only to have one drive blown foul and the other caught in deep right center field.

Schaefer allowed only one man to reach third base. With two out in the ninth inning a Dundee lad worked his way to the far corner with what would have been the tying run. In bluffing a steal home the Dundee coach ran along with the baserunner half way home and the umpire ruled the runner out because of a rule violation by the third base coach.

Next Sunday Woodstock will play here. This is the first year that they can play Arlington. In previous seasons the Woodstock club played in the Fox River Valley League and were either champions or runnerup for the title. Last season they won the championship of that league. According to the Woodstock manager, they are coming down to give the Redwings their first defeat of the season. Next Sunday will tell the story.

PALATINE QUITS

The Palatine July 4 celebration has been called off because of the inability to get hot dogs, soft drinks, a prize automobile, rides and a score of other items that would be needed.

Brown is one of the outstanding ministers in the Presbyterian church of this country and has served as pastor of many large churches and held important positions in Presbyterian church councils and has been with the Princeton Theological seminary 9 years.

A Victory Dinner at 6:45 will open the evening's program. Reading of greetings from those unable to be present will be followed by the introduction of members of the board of trustees of 1935-38.

The burning of a facsimile of the mortgage will be done by members of the board of trustees of 1937-38: Henry F. Muller, C. E. McWharter, Wm. Mueller, Albert E. Goldthwaite, assisted by three women who have been identified with the church many years, Mrs. E. A. Elfeld, Mrs. Cyrus Draper and Mrs. Samuel Fehlman.

The dinner is being served by a Chicago caterer (price $1.50) and it will be necessary that all tickets be purchased before May 12.

The church board extends an invitation to all friends of the church to attend the Victory Dinner and help celebrate the noteworthy occasion.

Plan Memorial Day

Plans for a Memorial Day celebration in Arlington Heights have been initiated by the V. F. W. and the American Legion who will be in joint charge of the program. All organizations which desire to participate in the exercises should contact Forrest Davis, commander of the V. F. W. immediately as a full program is contemplated.

Music festival at Arlington high changed to May 19

Because of dim-out regulations, the date of the Festival of Music, sponsored by the music department of the Arlington Heights township high school, has been changed from Tuesday evening, May 14, to Sunday afternoon, May 19, at 3:00 o'clock.

Arlington makes bid for navy airport

"Fly to Chicago and back, and save two hours a day." "Let us fly you to your favorite vacation spot." "Youngsters: Learn to fly — let Dad have the car." These words might well be the advertising slogans of an aerial flying school sitting on the doorstep of Arlington Heights, a municipal airport.

Daily hops to Chicago for business men, stenographers and shoppers, and flying lessons for the new generation which is demanding to fly an airplane, may become realities and not idle talk.

Keeping step with an aerial minded world, the Arlington Hts. Chamber of Commerce is bidding for the naval auxiliary air field here. When the navy releases the field, Arlington Heights will have first chance to annex the airport as an outright gift from the government.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a special committee with the job of letting the proper government agencies know that Arlington Heights is "interested" in accepting the gift, and also in learning what is to be done with it when presented. The committee is investigating the answers to the questions that will arise when the proposal is placed before the village board which must take final action.

Although the navy is expected to terminate its flight training program the first of July, the airport cannot be "given away" until it is definitely released by the navy. However, the committee has learned that municipalities will have the first opportunity to accept or reject an airport grant. It is part of the government's plan to encourage the development of aviation by the state and municipalities.

Once the airport is presented to the village, the government will not turn "Indian giver" unless another war should be declared or if the village should refuse to maintain it properly.

Although the control of the airport rests with he village, the actual operation will be handled by airport operators selected by the board.

George Hardtke of Chicago, has been investigating for the committee, the possibilities and responsibilities that will accrue the village board and reports as follows: "The operators will be licensed and will have their own schools, instructors, repair shops, and equipment. Contracts will also be let for parking of planes, sale of gasoline and management of cafeteria. Such contracts with the village will yield more than enough to maintain and improve the land and buildings."

A few of the local air enthusiasts are already making plans to keep private planes at the airfield. One local resident with business in Chicago expects to fly to and from Chicago daily in his own plane. The state is doing its part in giving aviation a hand by appropriating 2½ million dollars for improvement of air field under municipal control.

The air field is located on Central road, southwest of Arlington Heights, consisting of 188 acres, half of which is owned by the government, the balance being leased.

Federal and state authorities expect that a network of such air fields will soon be spread every few miles throughout the country, making aviation a safe and popular means of travel for business and pleasure.

Three car robbery

When Carl Hempleman, 1940 Kedzie ave., Chicago, stopped his car on the Chicago west side Friday evening at 5:45 to give two hitch hikers a ride, he did not know that it was to be a three car robbery (and possibly more).

Records of the sheriff police reveal that the two hikers, with the aid of a 45-calibre gun, forced Hempleman out of his own car near the Buick plant. The bandits then evidently picked up two companions, proceeded to Arlington Heights where at 8:30 they stole the car of S. R. Paddock. The original stolen car was driven to Dundee road near the farm of Wilbur Pohlman, half mile east of Arlington Heights road where it was met by car No. 2, which in the meantime had been used in a hold-up at 9:00 p. m. near the Des Plaines post-office when Chas. LaMamtia lost $90 in cash.

When the two cars met at the Pohlman place at 9:30 p. m. car No. 1 was abandoned and the occupants drove to the Chicago northside, where Car No. 2 was abandoned and car No. 3 was stolen and driven to Elmwood Park for robbery No. 2. There was some shooting there, but the car made its escape. Both holdup victims said they were robbed by three men.

Gasoline keeps theater open in Arlington

Don Knapp, manager of Arlington Theatre has been able to beat the "dimout" by the installation of auxiliary power, and it is one of the few theatres in this area which is open.

It has been necessary to go to single features, giving two programs each night, at seven and nine o'clock.

The manner that the auxiliary power was found is an interesting story. Craig-Meyers Welding Service offered his equipment which is on wheels and each evening is brought to the theatre. Th power is used for the arc projection lights.

The theatre has purchased an A-C generator which provides the current for the sound, the amplifier, and some lighting. Herman Hinz provided a small generator for the lobby and marquee lights.

And to safeguard against a blackout due to failure of the emergency power, the theatre management has secured a number of lights that operate from batteries, which will be turned on if the theatre audience is left in the dark.

Seek more ideas for Arlington war memorial

The Arlington Heights War Memorial Committee named Carl M. Teutsch to head a fact finding committee to survey the facilities of this community. This survey will aid the committee in developing plans for a fitting War Memorial for Arlington Heights.

A Chicago newspaper last week carried the following item: "A sampling of public opinion among veterans indicates they prefer 'useful memorials' in the form of playgrounds, swimming pools, athletic fields and other projects designed to serve the entire community, the American Public Works association reported yesterday."

Following the appeal in last week's Herald, the public has already submitted some suggestions for a memorial, as follows: Community Hospital, Veterans Home, Public Library and Scoutcraft Center for boys and girls. The committee looks for a wide response to their invitation to the public o submit ideas for the War Memorial. Give as much detail as you wish.

Mail all suggestions to the War Memorial Committee, Village Hall, Arlington Heights, or leave them at the office of the Village Clerk.

Oral R. Cline is compiling a complete list of all veterans of this community, and he requests parents and veterans to send him any names of service men whose names do not appear on the Honor Roll displayed next to Green's Store. His phone number is Arlington Heights 1408-J.

Special village election nearly lost by 33-23 vote

The danger of lack of interest in an election on the part of the general public was demonstrated Tuesday when only 56 votes were cast on the validating of a tax rate needed by the municipality.

The proposition was only carried by ten votes — 33 to 23. The returns in the north precinct were 18 to 15 and in the south precinct 15 to 8.

Northwestern cancels 39 suburban trains

In order to conserve its diminishing coal supplies and to comply with Office of Defense Transportation orders, the Chicago and North Western Railway Company has discontinued operations of approximately 25 per cent of its suburban service between Chicago and suburbs to the north, northwest and west effective Wednesday, May 8.

The reduced suburban service will remain in force until further notice. Thirty-nine suburban trains operating at least five days a week will be taken out of service. In certain cases suburban trains remaining in operation will make additional stops. In all instances, the train withdrawals have been spread throughout the entire working day in order to prevent undue hardship for commuters.

Unless relief is obtained, further reductions in suburban service will take place May 15 equivalent to the mileage saved by the reductions effective Wednesday.

Those trains taken out of service, effective Wednesday, all on daylight saving time, are as follows:

Mayor's Proclamation

Because of the critical shortage of coal resulting from the nation-wide strike of bituminous coal miners, I, Albert Goedke, Mayor, hereby proclaim a state of emergency to exist in the Village of Arlington Heights and call upon all citizens to comply with the Order of the Illinois Commerce Commission dated May 1, 1946, requiring curtailment in the use of electricity.

The restrictions, necessary to protect electric service for public health and safety uses and protection of property, are effective immediately and call for a general curtailment of electricity.

Compliance with existing regulations is vital during this emergency and I urge all citizens to cooperate fully.

Signed:
ALBERT GOEDKE, Mayor
Village of Arlington Hgts.

Girls hurt when their motorcycle collides with car

Mrs. Charmion Neagle and Miss Alice Erickson, both of Palatine, were seriously injured early Saturday morning when their motorcycle collided with an automobile at the junction of rtes. 12 and 22. The girls were taken to Sherman hospital where Mrs. Neagle is in an especially serious condition with a fractured pelvis, and spine and internal injuries.

The girls were riding southeast on Rand road, rte. 12, about 1 a. m. when they collided with the westbound car on rte. 22 that reportedly failed to stop for the junction. The girls, driving their jointly-owned motorcycle, were the first to leave their cycle club's evening riding session. They had previously completed 48,000 miles of driving together without an accident.

Miss Erickson suffered a brain concussion and a serious leg injury, plus other lacerations.

Mrs. Neagle's husband, Orris, is still in the armed forces, and is stationed in Japan.

Public Service thanks public

Britton I. Budd, president of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, today issued the following statement:

"The Public Service Company deeply appreciates the fine spirit of cooperation shown by industry, stores, movie theaters and others in putting into effect the necessary and difficult adjustments to conform to the order curtailing uses of electricity for the conservation of coal. Only the broad public welfare and the need for prolonging essential electric service for health, safety and property protection could possibly warrant such drastic restrictions. The sympathetic responses and the speed with which compliance is being accomplished is encouraging. The company will continue to do its utmost in the difficult task of administering this order."

Arlington High School Board starts expansion program

Condemnation to double area of athletic field

Arlington Heights high school is seeking an additional 9½ acres as future development for general school and recreational purposes. At their request condemnations proceedings in the name of township trustees have been started against several blocks in Arlington Ridge.

In the meantime —

The village of Arlington Hgts. Monday night approved a resubdivision of Arlington Ridge and passed an ordinance vacating certain streets therein which, when properly delivered means that the developers of Arlington Ridge will hand over to the Arlington Park Board a deed for a four acre tract to be used either for recreational or park purposes.

The National Mortgage and Investment Co. which holds title to land in question has sold all except eight of the lots which the school board is seeking under condemnation proceedings.

Contracts have been let by the subdividers for the underground work needed on the streets, which are to be paved next year. This work included a large number of water and sewer house connections, rebuilding of catch basins, new outlets, etc.

Notices served

Righeimer & Righeimer, attorneys hired by the high school board to conduct the condemnation proceedings, advised the Herald Tuesday that notices of the court action had been issued to all known owners of the lots in question but that the case would probably not come to trial until next fall.

The township board of school trustees held three meetings and consulted an attorney of their own before passing the resolution presented by the high school board with a rider of their own that all costs, including their own attorney fees be charged to the building fund account of the high school. Attorney Edwin D. Lawler was retained by the board of trustees.

Realty company offers eight acres at $500 a lot

J. E. Shaffron, general manager of the National Mortgage and Investment Co., told the Herald Wednesday that the only direct negotiations between the school board and his company were nearly a year ago when, at the suggestion of Mr. Laurin, a conference was held. The realty company offered at that time to sell to the high school about eight acres of land at $500 a lot.

The board decided after an hour's discussion that it did not have the money to make the purchase and was not in a position to go into debt to acquire it.

The company then proceeded with the resubdividing of the property and made plans for the dedication of approximately four acres for park and school purposes. Mr. Shaffron says, "it is my opinion that Arlington Heights high school is growing to such an extent that it might be preferable for the school to purchase a second tract near Mt. Prospect or some other part of the district and operate a second school. Some pupils attending the school travel as much as nine miles.

"Additional elementary school facilities are needed in Arlington and it is for that reason that we have donated the four acre site for school and playground facilities."

Erection of 16 homes has been started, none of which, however, are in the condemnation area.

If the school board is successful in its proceedings the school tract will be separated from the park district tract by one block.

Residences at 610 and 710 No. Ridge are not included in the proceedings and their owners will not be molested, although both will be surrounded by the proposed recreation field.

Negro admits blame in fire fatal to horses

Gilbert Jones, 42, a negro watchman of the Maine Chance stables at Arlington Park race track, has admitted blame for the fire early Thursday morning, May 2, which killed 23 thoroughbreds valued at $500,000. His admission was given to the police after another negro claimed that he did not see the watchman around the place.

Jones' confession states that after starting an electric heater he had gone to the stall occupied by Joseph Carter where he drank whiskey and fell asleep some time prior to the fire.

It was payday for the employees of the stable. 'Nuf said.

At a hearing held Thursday, Jones was found guilty of gross negligence and fined $50.00. Carter was judged guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $5.00.

The fire was discovered by William Bayton, a groom, and James Smith, a trainer, who were sleeping in the stable. The fire started at 12:30 a. m.

Telephone operators received the calls at 12:30. Within a few minutes the Palatine and Arlington Heights fire departments were on the scene. They found, however, that the entire barn was down, with the exception of the sleeping quarters on the south end. Some of the colored employees who occupied the barn, escaped wearing only their B. V. D.'s.

Chief Jahn of Arlington Hgts. stated that the fire hydrants were handy and there was plenty of water. Firemen can not understand how the fire reached such proportions before they were called.

The horses were owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, owner of the Maine Chance Farm. The most prized of the horses to die, it was reported, was War Admiral's colt. The other, worth $32,000, was Gay Emperor, police said.

Will call special election for school addition

Arlington Heights high school has had growing pains to such an extent that it has become necessary for the school board to seek authority of the tax payers to issue bonds that will make possible the erection of an addition to the building. Petitions are now being circulated asking that the election be called.

Plans for the additions are not yet complete, but they will be submitted to the public before voters will be asked to give their approval of the bonds. Architects are expected to have them ready within the next ten days.

If approved by the voters, this will be the third addition to the school since its original erection in 1922. The increase in enrollment has made necessary additional room while bonds totaling $114,000 for previous additions are still outstanding.

Increased assessed valuations with the million dollars worth of new homes will be an aid in keeping tax rates down.

Police work fast when motorist has car trouble in Calif.

Police in California work fast when they discover an unattended car on the roadside. Arlington Heights police received a wire from California this week asking if a car found in that state had been stolen from its owner. The police investigated and learned that Allen Henken had driven the car to California and when he experienced engine trouble he had left it on the road while he went for help. Allen resides at 304 Fairview.

Garden Club plans spring festival

The Arlington Heights Garden Club invites the general public to their First Annual Spring Festival and card party May 17, at the Arlington Heights Field house at 8 p.m. An enjoyable and entertaining evening is assumed for all who come.

Taken for a ride

Bessie lives to tell the tale after hectic trip

Bessie was taken for a ride and lived to tell the tale!

That is the story of Bessie of Palatine, kidnaped in Arlington Heights, taken for a ride in Des Plaines, and found in Chicago.

Bessie had been around plenty in the eight years of her life. She'd been to Canada and down to the Smokies once. She'd gone to Miami one winter. And she'd even had a fight with a cow one night in the spring of '41, coming out "second-best".

But still Bessie was dissatisfied. She wanted excitement — the real kind you see in the movies and hear over the radio.

She wanted to be the Lone Ranger and chase bad men over the hills.

She wanted to be superman and fly through the heavens faster than the speed of light. She wanted to be another gangbuster and live a life of peril.

Friday night Bessie got her wish. She was kidnapped.

As Bessie was standing at the curb in Arlington Heights just after sundown she was whisked away by unknown persons to excitement she never dreamed existed.

Away she went at more than 50 miles an hour, stopping in Des Plaines. It was there she aided "real gangsters" in robbing a man of $90.

It was there she made another quick getaway that fairly burned her heart out with the thrill of almost flying to Chicago.

Then, alas! She was abandoned. She was dropped like a hot potato on the northwest side of Chicago.

And hot she was! Her insides were burning up, her feet were tired and worn, her throat had developed a cough.

It was then that Bessie decided excitement was not meant for her. As she sat out those long night hours she gave up all desire for any more thrills.

And happy she was when brought back home Saturday morning, still aching and coughing, but vowing never again to stray.

Her name? Bessie Buick.

Her home? She lived with the editor in Palatine, and called Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights her office.

Redwings host to Woodstock this Sunday

Braving unfavorable weather conditions, the largest opening day crowd to ever see the Redwings inaugurate a baseball season watched the local team skid through a muddy field to defeat Dundee 1-0 last Sunday.

While Schaefer was holding the opposition scoreless the Redwings found the high wind working to Dundee's advantage. On two occasions with men on base, local boys hit long balls labeled with homerun tickets only to have one drive blown foul and the other caught in deep right center field.

Schaefer allowed only one man to reach third base. With two out in the ninth inning a Dundee lad worked his way to the far corner with what would have been the tying run. In bluffing a steal home the Dundee coach ran along with the baserunner half way home and the umpire ruled the runner out because of a rule violation by the third base coach.

Next Sunday Woodstock will play here. This is the first year that they can play Arlington. In previous seasons the Woodstock club played in the Fox River Valley League and were either champions or runnerup for the title. Last season they won the championship of that league. According to the Woodstock manager, they are coming down to give the Redwings their first defeat of the season. Next Sunday will tell the story.

PALATINE QUITS

The Palatine July 4 celebration has been called off because of the inability to get hot dogs, soft drinks, a prize automobile, rides and a score of other items that would be needed.

Have you ever watched an ostrich? If you have, you will remember that whenever he is frightened, whenever he wants to hide from the inevitable he buries his head in the sand.

Too many of us are adopting this ostrich habit. When we are faced with problems, particularly health problems, "we bury our heads in the sand" to hide the inevitable. We trust to luck to pull us out of health dilemma.

When we have a painful toothache, we force ourselves into the dentist chair. When we have a stomach ache and can't enjoy our food, we reluctantly go to a physician. But how many of us visit the dentist before we get a toothache? How many of us visit a physician to be sure we don't get a stomach ache? Alas, too few.

Public health education teaches the value of regular physical check-ups at least once a year and visits to the dentist at least twice a year. A little progress has been made — but not enough.

It is logical to assume that the physician can prevent serious illnesses, if contacted early. The same applies to the dentist. Public and private agencies working in the field of health make possible all types of tests and examinations which will tell us exactly how healthy we are, but too few of us take advantage of these extensive facilities.

Let's take our heads out of the sand, let's face our health facts and give our physician and our dentist a chance to keep us healthy. The following suggestions are recommended for adults as well as children:

1. Have a physical check-up at least once a year to include a chest x-ray and blood test.

2. Visit the dentist at least twice a year.

Then when we know our balance sheet of health and we have a record of our assets and liabilities, we can plan our daily living to insure a long life of good health.

"ABUNDANT LIFE"

The "abundant life" which Jesus desired to bring is to be had by the sincere application of his gospel to life.

—Rev. Benjamin L. DuVal.

The good man has absolute good, which, like fire, turns everything to its own nature, so that you cannot do him any harm.

—Emerson.

Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

It is not the fact that a man has riches which keeps him from the kingdom of heaven, but the fact that riches have him.

Village dads hold busy 'double' session

Arlington Heights village board held a double meeting Monday evening, first, winding up all business connected with the municipal year which came to an end April 30 and then starting anew on the affairs of 1946-1947. Unfinished business on the agenda that evening were purchase of a tractor, and a new police car and the passing of bills totaling $5,335.52. An additional $2,500 was spent that evening for the new motor equipment.

So much business awaited action by the board that an adjourned meeting will be held next Monday evening.

D. J. L. Walther, engineer and contractor representing the subdividers of Arlington Ridge subdivision, was granted permission to install water taps and catch basins in that subdivision, subject to the inspection of the village superintendent of public works. The plans and specifications were approved by Arthur W. Consoer, village engineer.

A new ordinance specifying minimum requirements for laying of pavement was under consideration of the board at the time that Walther submitted plans for new paving in the same subdivision. Such approval is awaiting clarification of the "minimum requirements", and an analysis of the plans presented, by the village engineer.

A new police car was purchased from George C. Poole, Ford dealer, which, with accessories, amounted to $1,419.57. Chief Skoog is looking forward to the delivery of the new Ford. Although the radio equipment will be removed from the old to the new vehicle, the 1942 police wagon will be around for a while. It has given pretty good service the past four years and has shown signs that there's still a lot of life in it, observed Alderman Kehe.

The board approved the recommendation of Alderman Studtman for the purchase of a tractor-mower, accepting a bid of $1,229.85 from the Patten Tractor & Equipment Co., Chicago.

Add to police force; increase salaries

Arlington Heights will hereafter have a police force of five men, the new officer is E. Johnson, who will receive $175 a month. $10 increase was granted officers Karstens, Heineman and Melbourn, which means a monthly stipend of $205, while Chief Skoog will receive $230.

Present employees of the other departments received similar advances, the desk sergeants, Messrs. Bauer, Firnbach and Windheim to be paid $175 each. An adjustment in salaries was made to those employees who have been advanced to more responsible positions. Raymond Becker who is now street and water superintendent will get $210 a month. Employees serving under Becker, Harold Proebstle at $165 and Wally Kehe at $165 a month. The customary two weeks vacation with pay went along with their appointment, except those employed less than a year.

Other appointments made by the mayor that evening were Louis Clark as thistle commissioner at $35 for the season; Paul Incaprero as custodian of the dump at $12 for the year, Helene Busse, clerk $135; Edwin Belzer, sewage plant operator, $185; health nurse, $150; Wm. F. Meyer, Jr., treasurer, $250.

The appointment list also included such officials as fire chief, Richard H. Jahn, George Gaare as chief engineer, Paul Taege as building commissioner, Hugo J. Thal as attorney and Arthur W. Consoer as engineer. Their salaries will be as specified in existing ordinances.

Monthly fee for maintenance of police radio will be $35. The health board has had little use for funds the past year but was given a budget of $100, if same is needed.

Appoint special police

Fifteen special police in place of the usual twenty, were appointed at the rate of $1.00 a year as follows: Ben Michlevitz, Oscar O. Johnson, Harold Hastings, Paul Incaprero, Louis Bornkamp, Edward Heimsoth, Gustav Pelletier, Ralph Stippick, Willard T. Loeber, Francis K. Wilton, Steven Kindler, Rev. John M. Kempf, Anthony Hesch, A. G. Cubley and Stanley Woznick.

Race track asked to furnish two men

Arlington Park race track will again be asked to furnish two men to aid the local police in control of traffic during the racing season at the intersections of Euclid and State road, and Euclid and the highway.

A fire hydrant was assured the Grigsby-Allison Co. who have been without adequate fire protection because of the inability to obtain a new hydrant. The village agreed that one could be moved from a less essential spot.

A request by Arlington Bowling Lanes for permission to erect a sign on railroad park property at Vail street was returned for submission to the proper authorities, the park board.

The fire department was given approval to purchase 400 feet of 1½" hose.

The clerk was directed to write a thank you to Mrs. Fannie May for the gift of a flag for the city flag pole.

Dish-Washing

Washing and rinsing dishes under running water is extravagant, and especially so where hot water supplies may be limited. Use a hot suds bath in a dishpan—then rinse the dishes all at once.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS
Arlington Heights Post 981

The past week the Arlington Heights VFW post lost one of its World War 1 comrades, Rudolph Rizzi. His constant effort in behalf of the post will stand out as an example of unselfish devotion in the eyes of all his comrades and buddies. As one of the post's past commanders and a village official his untimely end is keenly felt by the post as well as the people of the village. Mr. Rizzi was given a full military funeral, the details of which were ably carried out by Commander Forrest Davis, and Ed. Allison, who served as officer of the day. Further assistance was given by Post Adjutant John Duthorn and many other fellow comrades.

The post colors were presented at the military funeral in honor of Lt. Wilbert Gieseke last Sunday.

Plans for Memorial Day will be discussed further at the next VFW meeting which will be held May 10, at 8:30 p.m. in the village hall. This will be the VFW's first post-war program and all members are urged to attend as they will need much assistance in order to formulate the final plans. Call Arlington Heights 330 for any information regarding the Memorial Day Program.

The first baseball game of the season for the VFW team ended in a tie score, 4-4, with the American Legion team. The playoff will be at a later date.

Here is a NEW, EASY, MONEY-SAVING WAY TO QUICKLY make false teeth FIT TIGHTER, creating greater mouth comfort and lessening noisy teeth chatter and bad breath from ill-fitting plates. Entirely new method. Merely apply NUFIT to plate and place in mouth. No heat needed. It soon solidifies, adjusting plate snugly to the shape of the mouth, making a better fit. No fuss or bother. Not a paste or powder you have to apply each day. NUFIT becomes a part of the plate . . . solid, tasteless, harmless, natural pink in color, easy to clean and sanitary. Scientifically designed to compensate for tissue shrinkage and gum recession. Enables you to renew plates at home. Saves money. Not a temporary measure. One application lasts for months. If you want to enjoy real mouth comfort once more, buy NUFIT today. MONEY BACK if not satisfied. ..... Only $1.00

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 5, was:

"EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT"

The Golden Text was:

"Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify hearts, ye double minded" (James 4: 8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness . . . I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee. Sing, O ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it: . . . for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel" (I John 1; Isa. 44).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts . . . To get rid of sin through Science, is to divest sin of any supposed mind or reality, and never to admit that sin can have intelligence or power, pain or pleasure . . . Sin is forgiven only as it is destroyed by Christ,—Truth and Life (pp. 497, 389, 5).

Hospitals loom large in our consciousness now. Because they are serving a greater need than ever before.

By the most superhuman effort, the hospitals of our civilian life are meeting the test of greater demand. Military needs are paramount — but civilian needs are great too.

Have you ever watched an ostrich? If you have, you will remember that whenever he is frightened, whenever he wants to hide from the inevitable he buries his head in the sand.

Too many of us are adopting this ostrich habit. When we are faced with problems, particularly health problems, "we bury our heads in the sand" to hide the inevitable. We trust to luck to pull us out of health dilemma.

When we have a painful toothache, we force ourselves into the dentist chair. When we have a stomach ache and can't enjoy our food, we reluctantly go to a physician. But how many of us visit the dentist before we get a toothache? How many of us visit a physician to be sure we don't get a stomach ache? Alas, too few.

Public health education teaches the value of regular physical check-ups at least once a year and visits to the dentist at least twice a year. A little progress has been made — but not enough.

It is logical to assume that the physician can prevent serious illnesses, if contacted early. The same applies to the dentist. Public and private agencies working in the field of health make possible all types of tests and examinations which will tell us exactly how healthy we are, but too few of us take advantage of these extensive facilities.

Let's take our heads out of the sand, let's face our health facts and give our physician and our dentist a chance to keep us healthy. The following suggestions are recommended for adults as well as children:

1. Have a physical check-up at least once a year to include a chest x-ray and blood test.

2. Visit the dentist at least twice a year.

Then when we know our balance sheet of health and we have a record of our assets and liabilities, we can plan our daily living to insure a long life of good health.

Gems of thought

"ABUNDANT LIFE"

The "abundant life" which Jesus desired to bring is to be had by the sincere application of his gospel to life.

—Rev. Benjamin L. DuVal.

The good man has absolute good, which, like fire, turns everything to its own nature, so that you cannot do him any harm.

—Emerson.

Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

It is not the fact that a man has riches which keeps him from the kingdom of heaven, but the fact that riches have him.

—Caird.

Village dads hold busy 'double' session

Arlington Heights village board held a double meeting Monday evening, first, winding up all business connected with the municipal year which came to an end April 30 and then starting anew on the affairs of 1946-1947. Unfinished business on the agenda that evening were purchase of a tractor, and a new police car and the passing of bills totaling $5,335.52. An additional $2,500 was spent that evening for the new motor equipment.

So much business awaited action by the board that an adjourned meeting will be held next Monday evening.

D. J. L. Walther, engineer and contractor representing the subdividers of Arlington Ridge subdivision, was granted permission to install water taps and catch basins in that subdivision, subject to the inspection of the village superintendent of public works. The plans and specifications were approved by Arthur W. Consoer, village engineer.

A new ordinance specifying minimum requirements for laying of pavement was under consideration of the board at the time that Walther submitted plans for new paving in the same subdivision. Such approval is awaiting clarification of the "minimum requirements", and an analysis of the plans presented, by the village engineer.

A new police car was purchased from George C. Poole, Ford dealer, which, with accessories, amounted to $1,419.57. Chief Skoog is looking forward to the delivery of the new Ford. Although the radio equipment will be removed from the old to the new vehicle, the 1942 police wagon will be around for a while. It has given pretty good service the past four years and has shown signs that there's still a lot of life in it, observed Alderman Kehe.

The board approved the recommendation of Alderman Studtman for the purchase of a tractor-mower, accepting a bid of $1,229.85 from the Patten Tractor & Equipment Co., Chicago.

Add to police force; increase salaries

Arlington Heights will hereafter have a police force of five men, the new officer is E. Johnson, who will receive $175 a month. $10 increase was granted officers Karstens, Heineman and Melbourn, which means a monthly stipend of $205, while Chief Skoog will receive $230.

Present employees of the other departments received similar advances, the desk sergeants, Messrs. Bauer, Firnbach and Windheim to be paid $175 each. An adjustment in salaries was made to those employees who have been advanced to more responsible positions. Raymond Becker who is now street and water superintendent will get $210 a month. Employees serving under Becker, Harold Proebstle at $165 and Wally Kehe at $165 a month. The customary two weeks vacation with pay went along with their appointment, except those employed less than a year.

Other appointments made by the mayor that evening were Louis Clark as thistle commissioner at $35 for the season; Paul Incaprero as custodian of the dump at $12 for the year, Helene Busse, clerk $135; Edwin Belzer, sewage plant operator, $185; health nurse, $150; Wm. F. Meyer, Jr., treasurer, $250.

The appointment list also included such officials as fire chief, Richard H. Jahn, George Gaare as chief engineer, Paul Taege as building commissioner, Hugo J. Thal as attorney and Arthur W. Consoer as engineer. Their salaries will be as specified in existing ordinances.

Monthly fee for maintenance of police radio will be $35. The health board has had little use for funds the past year but was given a budget of $100, if same is needed.

Appoint special police

Fifteen special police in place of the usual twenty, were appointed at the rate of $1.00 a year as follows: Ben Michlevitz, Oscar O. Johnson, Harold Hastings, Paul Incaprero, Louis Bornkamp, Edward Heimsoth, Gustav Pelletier, Ralph Stippick, Willard T. Loeber, Francis K. Wilton, Steven Kindler, Rev. John M. Kempf, Anthony Hesch, A. G. Cubley and Stanley Woznick.

Race track asked to furnish two men

Arlington Park race track will again be asked to furnish two men to aid the local police in control of traffic during the racing season at the intersections of Euclid and State road, and Euclid and the highway.

A fire hydrant was assured the Grigsby-Allison Co. who have been without adequate fire protection because of the inability to obtain a new hydrant. The village agreed that one could be moved from a less essential spot.

A request by Arlington Bowling Lanes for permission to erect a sign on railroad park property at Vail street was returned for submission to the proper authorities, the park board.

The fire department was given approval to purchase 400 feet of 1½" hose.

The clerk was directed to write a thank you to Mrs. Fannie May for the gift of a flag for the city flag pole.

Dish-Washing

Washing and rinsing dishes under running water is extravagant, and especially so where hot water supplies may be limited. Use a hot suds bath in a dishpan—then rinse the dishes all at once.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS
Arlington Heights Post 981

The past week the Arlington Heights VFW post lost one of its World War 1 comrades, Rudolph Rizzi. His constant effort in behalf of the post will stand out as an example of unselfish devotion in the eyes of all his comrades and buddies. As one of the post's past commanders and a village official his untimely end is keenly felt by the post as well as the people of the village. Mr. Rizzi was given a full military funeral, the details of which were ably carried out by Commander Forrest Davis, and Ed. Allison, who served as officer of the day. Further assistance was given by Post Adjutant John Duthorn and many other fellow comrades.

The post colors were presented at the military funeral in honor of Lt. Wilbert Gieseke last Sunday.

Plans for Memorial Day will be discussed further at the next VFW meeting which will be held May 10, at 8:30 p.m. in the village hall. This will be the VFW's first post-war program and all members are urged to attend as they will need much assistance in order to formulate the final plans. Call Arlington Heights 330 for any information regarding the Memorial Day Program.

The first baseball game of the season for the VFW team ended in a tie score, 4-4, with the American Legion team. The playoff will be at a later date.

Military funeral held for Lt. John Rodgers

A military funeral honoring Lt. (j.g.) John E. Rodgers, navy pilot of Prospect Heights, who lost his life in the crash of his plane April 29, was held at the funeral home of Lauterburg and Oehler in Arlington Heights Monday morning, May 6th. Interment was to be in Covington, Ind., to which place the body was accompanied by the family and the naval officer acting as escort.

The funeral was in charge of Chaplain F. Roy Doland, from the Glenview naval air station. An honor guard of six officers acted as pallbearers. A trio of naval personnel sang "Eternal Father Strong to Save", the navy hymn and "Faith of Our Fathers."

Chaplain Doland, and ex-army chaplain, Edwin I. Stevens of Mt. Prospect participated in the service. A color guard from the Des Plaines American Legion, of which John was a member, took part in the impressive funeral rites.

Lt. (j.g.) John E. Rodgers was born October 2, 1923, at Perrysville, Ind. He was married April 21, 1945.

Arlington graduate

John attended Arlington Hgts. township high school and entered the service of his country in the navy in September, 1942. After basic and preliminary training he received his pre-flight training at Iowa City, Iowa., primary fighter training at Ottumwa, Iowa, and basic and advanced flight training at Pensacola, Fla. He was commissioned an Ensign in the navy and received his "wings" at Pensacola March 24, 1944.

Following operational training at Melbourne, Fla., John joined the famous fighting squadron of Air Group 3 at Pearl Harbor in September, 1944. Eight months spent in the Pacific theater with Air Group 3 brought him into intensive combat from the deck of the Yorktown at Luzon, Ormoc Ban, Mindoro, Formosa, China, French Indo China, Iwo Jima, Chichi Jima and Tokyo.

Lt. Rodgers flew over 35 combat missions, piloting a navy Gruman Hellcat fighter-bomber. His letters home told of many close escapes when he returned with his plane severely damaged and on one occasion even spattered with mud from a low-flying strafing run.

Many ribbons

Lt. Rodgers held three air medals for outstanding combat flying. He was also entitled to the Philippine liberation ribbon with one combat star, the Pacific Theater ribbon with three stars, the American theater ribbon and the victory medal. His most recent commander said of him: "he is a capable young officer whose military and personal characteristics are of the highest calibre. He is an excellent pilot who successfully completed five months of intensive combat with a distinguished record."

John met his death when his plane crashed in what was apparently a forced landing only twenty miles from his home station. He is survived by his beloved wife, Mrs. Norma Jean Rodgers of 1507 Campbell ave., Des Plaines, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Rodgers, Sr., of 407 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights, two brothers, Hubert Rodgers, Jr., recently discharged from the army and Peter Rodgers and many relatives and friends.

Chestnut Room to open Sunday

The Mount Prospect Country Club announced this week the grand opening of the new "Chestnut Room" where the club is to serve family dinners to the public.

The newly remodeled club house is under the management of Mr. Arthur Kinder, formerly with the "Chez Paree" Club in Chicago. The kitchen is under the direction of Arthur Wahl, recently with Uncle Sam in Germany as a mess sergeant. Jay Caldwell, the second cook, as well as Mr. Wahl, have been credited with serving the finest banquets in England, France and Germany, attended by General Gerhardt, Colonel Alexander George and others.

Chef Wahl's banquet was given for "E" Company of the 115th Infantry, 29th Division, known as the Shangri-La Feast held on V-J Day. This was the largest banquet ever held at Gaststatte Kuhlirten, the finest banquet restaurant in Bremen, Germany.

Chef Wahl returned to the United States and became chief cook at the station hospital, Ft. Sheridan, Ill. He is a resident of Arlington Heights, Ill.

It is planned to keep the Chestnut Room open eleven months of the year and cater to bridge luncheons, family dinners and business lunches as well as golf tournaments.

The Mt. Prospect Club, the home of the original Twilight Golf League, believes that people prefer to dine in the pleasant atmosphere of a beautifully landscaped country club and that more and more people prefer to eat out to give mother a chance to get away from the kitchen.

The completely equipped new stainless steel kitchen is one of the finest in this locality, also the men's and ladies' lounge rooms, newly equipped, are a credit to the finest club. The tile shower rooms in the men's lounge room are as fine as are to be found in any club open to the public.

Cub scouts throw first baseball

Despite the cool weather the Cub Scouts of Arlington Heights pried the lid off and officially opened their summer baseball schedule at the park field Tuesday evening, May 7.

The "Cardinals" composed of Dens 2 and 3 trounced the "Bumble Bees", Dens 1 and 12, by a score of 16 to 9. The first inning the Cardinals took the lead by 4 runs. In the second both teams scored 3. The 3rd and 4th innings went runless for each side.

In the 5th the Bumble Bees added 3 runs which put them only one run behind. The Cardinals tightened their belts in the 6th and drove 5 runs over the plate while the Bumble Bees went runless.

The tally for the 7th showed the Cardinals adding 4 runs to the Bumble Bees 3.

Final score: Cardinals 16, Bumbles Bees 9. There was one home run made by Jimmy Thompson.

Cardinals: Jimmy Thompson, Chuck Wilkie, Denny Maher, Mickey Cuscaden, Bucky Randag, Warren Doellefield, Jan Van Deusen, Jerry Kern, Dick Hunsinger, Donald Krober, Dick Frasier, Jimmy Lindsay, Art Eppig, Bob Eppig, Teddy Simroe and David Ryden.

Bumble Bees: Bobby Dotts, Daniel Young, Bobby Thompson, John Lee, Dick McAuliff, Dick Winterbauer, Bert Goldthwaite, Jimmy Laughlin, Don Militzer, Ray Stockwell, Bobby Ellis, Elwood Luersson, Dick Malcolmson, Charles Weinreich and Bud Meisenheimer.

Messers. C. Revenaugh and C. B. Jones did an efficient and fair job of umpiring.

The next game will be played Friday, May 10 at Recreation Field at 7 p. m.

20th anniversary

Fete 1st scoutmaster of Arlington troop 7

Boy Scout Troop 7 honored its first Scoutmasters at the 20th Anniversary Celebration in the North School, Arlington Heights, Tuesday evening, April 30, all agreeing that it was the most outstanding Scout Ceremonial so far this year.

Bill Kratt, master of ceremonies, paid Troop 7 high tribute adding that the first charter was issued in 1926, and these Scoutmasters were largely responsible for the fine record established to-date:

1926, Rev Billman; 1927, Noble J. Puffer; 1928-1929, F. O. Proctor; 1930-1932, A. L. McElhose; 1933-1935, Arnold Hottinger; 1936-1941, William Miles; 1942, Elmer Thorsen; 1943-1946, Martin W. Freeman.

Charter members of Troop 7, Ed. Chidley, and Ed. Adam served as assistant Scoutmasters, as did Wm. Miles Jr.

Stan Huntington, Scout Executive, complimented Troop 7 very highly for its many fine achievements adding that it was fortunate to have the support of so many hard working and loyal Committeemen, Assistant Scoutmasters and Scoutmaster who are: E. A. Meineke, chairman, R. R. Blackburn, K. W. Kennedy, A. Neville, R. H. Morrow, F. E. Burns, J. E. Hunsinger, Wm. A. Miles Jr., Paul Vawter, J. Moodie*, C. Levecke*, Elmer Thorsen Jr.*, C. *In Military Service.

Stan Huntington presented the Troop Charter to E. Meineke, Comm. Chairman, who presented it to Oscar Kurtz of the Lions Club, sponsors of Troop 7.

Rev. Milo Vondracek of the Arlington Heights M. E. church gave a fitting memorial to the memories of Assistant Scoutmasters Frank Freyermuth, Ed Dearie, and James Kellogg who made the supreme sacrifice in World War 2.

Bill Kratt's admiration and appreciation for Scouts and Scouters is boundless and was proven by all the comments he made as he introduced these Scout leaders: Geo. Clark, Council Chairman on Senior Scouting; Bob Blackburn, Dist.-2A Chairman; Byron Foote, Dist.-2A Chairman; Otto Pfeifer, Chairman Organization; Arnold Hatch, Chairman Dist. Publicity; Al Baker, Council Field Commissioner; Oscar Kurtz, Council Chairman on Advancement; Harold Flinn, Committeeman; Art Cubley, Council Finance Chr.; C. B. Jones, Dist. Commissioner; Art Wiedeman, President N. W. S. Council. Other Scouters were Don Wiedeman, who recently received his Air Corps Wings, K. V. Merrill, S. M. Troop-31 Niles Ohio, L. T. McAuliffe S. M. T-32 and past A. S. M. T-7. Also Bill Cutler Den 232.

Baptisms

On April 27 Gerald Duane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Holt, was baptized by the Rev. H. C. Fricke. The sponsors were Patricia Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bucher of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Holt is the former Pauline Elliott.

On May 5 the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene White of Cicero and formerly of Arlington Heights was baptized James Eugene by the Rev. H. C. Fricke. Clifford White and Annabelle Peters, also of Cicero, served as sponsors.

Also on May 5 Pastor Fricke officiated at a joint baptism for five children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Goodman of Arlington Heights. The children are Carol Agnes, George Paul, Robert Earl, Mable Louise and Kenneth Frederick.

The sponsors for the children were Mr. and Mrs. August Deeke of Elk Grove, Mrs. William Quandt, William Engel and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Engel. Also present were Henry Schroeder and Margaret Schulenburg.

BARBER WHITE RENTS SHOP TO A YOUNGER MAN

Frank White, veteran Arlington Heights barber has decided to quit the barber business for good and has rented his shop to Jim Bumba, who he says will appreciate a friendly call by the boys. Frank has had a part in many civic affairs of past days and takes a keen interest in what's going on today.

Electricity Restricted

If the nation-wide strike of bituminous coal miners continues, it is estimated that our supplies of coal for the generation of electricity will be exhausted on May 21. This means that the normal electric power supply would cease on May 21 unless the production of coal is resumed by May 14, because even when the miners return to work, about 7 days will be required for coal to reach our generating stations.

The undersigned presented the facts of this critical situation to the Illinois Commerce Commission. Following a hearing, the Commission ordered immediate curtailments in the use of electricity. These restrictions are necessary to prolong electric service for public health and safety and protection of property.

Accordingly, the immediate curtailment of electricity has been ordered:

"a. for all such purposes as decorative, or ornamental and flood lighting, sign lighting, window and show case lighting, comfort air-conditioning, car heating, and interior lighting in excess of minimum requirements;

"b. for industrial use except for an aggregate of 24 hours during the period Monday to Friday inclusive . . . ;

"c. for commercial use except the four-hour period between 2 P. M. and 6 P. M. of Monday through Saturday inclusive . . .;"

The Commission further orders the exemption from curtailment, so far as possible, of uses of electricity which are immediately essential to public health and safety and protection of property.

Your compliance is vital in this emergency. Everything possible is being done to protect and continue the supply of electricity. As soon as deliveries of coal are resumed, these restrictions will be relaxed and you will be immediately notified.

Early in the war, 122 days' supply of coal was maintained. Government fuel regulations caused a gradual reduction of this supply to approximately 50 days at the beginning of the coal strike April 1.

Electricity Restricted

If the nation-wide strike of bituminous coal miners continues, it is estimated that our supplies of coal for the generation of electricity will be exhausted on May 21. This means that the normal electric power supply would cease on May 21 unless the production of coal is resumed by May 14, because even when the miners return to work, about 7 days will be required for coal to reach our generating stations.

The undersigned presented the facts of this critical situation to the Illinois Commerce Commission. Following a hearing, the Commission ordered immediate curtailments in the use of electricity. These restrictions are necessary to prolong electric service for public health and safety and protection of property.

Accordingly, the immediate curtailment of electricity has been ordered:

"a. for all such purposes as decorative, or ornamental and flood lighting, sign lighting, window and show case lighting, comfort air-conditioning, car heating, and interior lighting in excess of minimum requirements;

"b. for industrial use except for an aggregate of 24 hours during the period Monday to Friday inclusive . . . ;

"c. for commercial use except the four-hour period between 2 P. M. and 6 P. M. of Monday through Saturday inclusive . . .;"

The Commission further orders the exemption from curtailment, so far as possible, of uses of electricity which are immediately essential to public health and safety and protection of property.

Your compliance is vital in this emergency. Everything possible is being done to protect and continue the supply of electricity. As soon as deliveries of coal are resumed, these restrictions will be relaxed and you will be immediately notified.

Early in the war, 122 days' supply of coal was maintained. Government fuel regulations caused a gradual reduction of this supply to approximately 50 days at the beginning of the coal strike April 1.

Pledge sorority at Valparaiso

Misses Harriet and Lois Fricke, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. Fricke, 723 N. State Road, were recently pledged by the Sigma Theta sorority at Valparaiso (Ind.) University. A graduate of the Arlington Heights high school, Harriet is a junior at the university and is majoring in sociology. Also a graduate of the Arlington Heights high school, Lois is a freshman at the university and is majoring in Spanish.

Valparaiso University, owned and operated by the Lutheran University association, has had a 60% enrollment increase in the past semester, bringing the total to 960 students.

Firemen fete

The Arlington Heights fire department were so jubilant over their recent victory in the Thursday night bowling league that they decided it called for a celebration. They figured a trophy couldn't be won every year and that they would make the most of the victory when it was theirs.

The team made reservations for a dinner party at Behm's in Wheeling for May 1. As their guests they invited their wives to share in the festivities. Two special guests for he night were Fire Chief and Mrs. Jahn. The guests claimed it was quite an affair and that if this was a sample of firemen victory they hoped they were victorious every year.

Woman's club closes year at May luncheon

The Arlington Heights Woman's Club closed its 59th year with a May party and luncheon at Rolling Green Country Club on Wednesday, May 1.

During the short business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. O. M. Baldwin, retiring president, introduced Mrs. Carl Ewert, the new president. Mrs. Ewert then introduced her officers for the coming year. Mrs. George N. Tuttle, program chairman, representing the new officers presented Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Ewert with corsages. Mrs. A. H. Franzen, music chairman, announced that Arlene Malzahn of the Lutheran School has been awarded the music scholarship to the Egyptian Music Camp at DuQuoin. The Woman's club will pay her expenses at the camp for one week and the Arlington Heights National Bank will pay her carfare.

A lovely musical program was presented by Catherine Malcolm, soloist, accompanied at the piano by Charlotte Lull. Mrs. Malcolm sang Aria from "Tosca" by Puccini, "Hayfields and Butterflies" by Del Riego, "My Johann" by Grieg, and for an encore she sang an arrangement of "Annie Laurie" by Lehman.

Mrs. L. F. Biederman, chairman of the drama committee, introduced Gladys Houser whose program was entitled "Broadway at 8:30."

Mrs. Houser began her talk by describing Broadway and said that you can "dine, wine and dance there, whether it's at the Astor or the Automat.

She said that 25 out of 78 plays succeed and 14 are smash hits. Seats for the "Glass Menagerie" sold for as high as $45 on opening night. "Dear Ruth" is still playing on Broadway and has been sold to the movies for $400,000. "Life with Father" is in its 7th consecutive year, is a thriving successful enterprise and is expected to last there for 25 years. It has worn out 9 pairs of leads and no one knows how many red haired sons.

Other plays which Mrs. Houser talked about were "Home of the Brave" by Art Lorentz, a 27 year old service man, which closed because of too poor box office receipts even though it was one of the very best war stories; "State of the Union", a man's play, a gay comedy wih a serious purpose; "Dream Girl" by Elmer Rice, a popular matinee play; a Shakespearean play, "G. I. Hamlet" by Maurice Evans and 5 G. I's from the South Pacific. Mrs. Houser said that this play is not for students of English or lovers of Shakespeare but for the man of the street.

She urged everyone to see George Bernard Shaw's play "Pygmalion" with Gertrude Lawrence. "Magnificent Yankee" pictures the life and personality of Chief Justice, Oliver Wendell Holmes during his 31 years in Washington.

The charming personalities and lovely programs of both Mrs. Malcolm and Mrs. Houser made this closing meeting of the club year an outstanding one.

Entertain on 13th birthday

The 13th birthday of Patricia Mae Greschner was quite an event last Friday when she entertained her seventh grade classmates at a party in the Arlington Heights Legion hall. Miss Greschner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Greschner of Arlington Heights.

Decorations consisting of pink and green streamers gave the hall a festive air. Games and dancing, the music for which was supplied by Mr. Hinz, were the prevailing entertainments. A large, hand decorated birthday cake and ice cream and pop disappeared quickly after being served to the young guests. As a matter of fact the refreshments looked so good that several eighth grade students crashed the gate in time for the eats.

Among those attending were two of Pat's teachers, Mr. Aiassi and Mr. Hussa, her two grandmothers, Mrs. John Greschner, of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Joe E. Krahl, who came from out of town and was accompanied by her two nephews, Bob and Laurie Stange.

Patsy received many gifts, a beautiful corsage and several bouquets of flowers.

American Legion auxiliary notes

The rummage sale sponsored by the Merle Guild Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at Legion hall, corner Douglas and Miner, Saturday, May 11. Doors will be open from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. Those wishing to have rummage collected please call 78-J before Friday, May 10. Doors will be open on Friday at 9 a. m. to receive rummage.

The social meeting held May 7 at the home of Mrs. Fitz Patrick was a very pleasant affair. The attendance was smaller than usual due to housecleaning and illness. Gathered around a table that was tastefully decorated with a maypole for a centerpiece and banked with gay tulips, plans were discussed and conclusions arrived at while refreshments were enjoyed.

Kupple klub notes

At the last regular meeting of the Kupple Klub of the Arlington Heights Methodist Meeting House the following committees were announced: ways and means, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lindsay; membership, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carncross; program, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schmoyer and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dibble; flower and sick, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Elliott.

This week's meeting has been postponed because of the dimout. The date of the next meeting will be announced later.

Receives Diploma

Bud Hoffman, '43, was just discharged April 26, after serving almost three years in the navy air corps. His was an on the spot job. As a navy combat air crewman he flew right along in the planes so he would be on hand to combat any active Gremlins with an inclination to jimmy up the works. At 18 he still had one year of high school to go, so rather than wait for the draft to pull him out just when he got into the swing of things he joined the navy air corps. This June he will receive his diploma at the high school with the class of '46. His length and type of service is rated equivalent to that last year, according to a certain navy program. Congratulations Bud! We'll be looking for you when Mr. Egdorf hands out those pardons.

Train Time

The Northwestern Railway Co. is upheld by such likeable people as Elsie Kostka and Marie Fischer, '45, who work in the Ravenswood branch. Changing trains doesn't bother them in the evenings, judging by their gay mood that never seems to wear out.

Elsie Kostka

Sometime I'm going to catch Eddie Crofoot, '43, after HE catches his morning train and find out where he goes whenever he makes it.

Speaking of train hoppers, I've given up riding on the right side of the 7:40 a. m. Arlington and Mt. Prospect people board on the left side but from there on they use the right. It wore me to a frazzle to watch late-comers run for the train — wondering if they'd make it. My nails couldn't stand it either.

Something worse I'll never get used to is watching the person half a block away when the train pulls in never change his gait but saunter up to the newspaper stand, procure his morning reading matter and nonchalantly step aboard the last coach as it picks up a good speed. Another week of watching those people and I'd be a total wreck.

Well, well, a celebrity in our midst. Harold Turner, the radio-pianist whom you have all heard many times over Chicago stations moved to Arlington Hgts. recently. He is a very nice looking young man with a keen personality. Though he's not "alumni" he definitely rates a paragraph.

Local students win honors at Purdue U.

One hundred and one young people from the state of Illinois were among the 672 students at Purdue University who won the "Distinguished Student" rating for scholastic achievement during the past term which closed the latter part of February, according to an announcement from the office of President Frederick L. Hovde. The "Distinguished" group included 575 civilians and 97 Navy V-12 trainees.

In order to be rated as a "Distinguished Student", the highest scholastic honor offered by the University, it was necessary for a student to maintain a scholastic index of 5.00, or above, which approximates an average of 90.

The students honored were:

Madie J. Johnson, of Arlington Heights, Freshman in Science.

Marjorie J. Kester, of Mt. Prospect, Freshman in Home Economics.

NOTICE

Take notice that an application for retail liquor dealers' license outside incorporated village or town in Cook county has been made by the following:

Fred Franken "Old Settlers' Inn" North Roselle Road and Pratt Blvd., Schaumburg Township, Roselle, Illinois.

Edwin J. Hinsberger & Edward W. Johnson "Eddie's", Milwaukee Avenue near River Road, Route No. 1, Wheeling Township, Mt. Prospect, Ill.

Fred C. Doctor "Inverness Golf Club", Roselle Road S. of Baldwin, R. R. No. 1, Palatine Township, Palatine, Ill.

John Jedynak and Zofie Jedynak "Forest Hill Inn", Higgins Road west of Salt Creek, Route No. 1, Box 91, Elk Grove Township, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Objections to the granting of such licenses may be made to the President of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County as Local Liquor Control Commissioner in writing and signed by the objector within five days stating specifically the grounds of objection.

CLAYTON F. SMITH,
Cook County Liquor Control Commissioner.

DURN DIMOUT

"The Visitor" had to cancel his visit to Arlington High for May 3 and 4 when the Commonwealth Edison Co. called Arlington to say that they would be allowed no electricity to entertain guests. What I mean is the senior play, "The Visitor" was canceled because of the dimout. The cast has started rehearsing again to mark time and keep from getting rusty until something breaks. If the dimout remains in effect they may give it May 17 or 18 in a matinee performance which will require no electricity for extra lighting.

Another program hanging in the balance of John L. Lewis' palm is the much anticipated Spring Concert featuring both vocal and instrumental groups in the high school musical departments. Originally it was scheduled to take place May 14. If it is decided there shall not be a night program, Mr. Schmoyer tentatively set Sunday afternoon, May 19 as the next best date. Watch the front page of the Herald for the latest developments and mark your calendar accordingly. There's plenty cookin' kids.

STEP LIVELY, BOYS!

The tract meet at Evanston Saturday, May 11, promises to be an active affair. Any varsity man winning first place in any field will go downstate to Champaign for the tournaments and finals. Arlington won one trophy — how about another one?

Say, my frans, did you know Gordon Allison has been in the hospital for the last two or three months? Fine reporter. Two week old news is bad enough but two MONTHS denotes I'm definitely off the ball. Gordon is recuperating quite fast from a touch of tuberculosis at the Edwards hospital in Naperville. His life must have been anything but dull a couple weeks ago with all that "company" coming in after the big train wreck. Gordon won't be able to graduate with the Class of '46 because he's just taking it easy for a while but it won't be long before he will be home again. He plans to pick up the last semester in February of next year where he dropped out. Till they toss him out of the hospital visitors are always welcome. If you want to know where and when to see him ask Laurel Middel, Red Ackerman or Joe Kerns. They went to see him Wednesday.

Improvements every year. Now the National Honor Society will publish a handbook this fall with a stiff cover and a spiral back made for quick reference and easy handling during the school year. Students are going to like this little bible. It's going to be almost as important as your date book — almost, not quite. Laurel Middel edits this attractive handbook and says it will be given to every student this coming fall; only to freshmen from then on.

The Cardinal was given special mention in the N. S. P. A. bulletin for its readable content and attractive makeup, or layout.

While we are in the publishing field, has everyone ordered their handsome new yearbook "The Heights"? If not you had better see about getting one soon. They will be released the third week in May and from what I hear they'll sell like hot cakes. The price is $2.50, higher than usual, but the book is worth every cent of it.

Fined for spanking neighbor's child

That you can't spank the neighbors children and get away with it was borne out last week when one Donald Prow of Des Plaines suffered a $25 fine for doing just that. According to Prow, the child had made a nuisance of himself to both Prow and his dog, trampled on newly-seeded grass, and kept getting in the way of archery target practice and refusing to go home.

Prow then gave the four year old boy an old fashioned spanking. The boy's parents brought suit and the $25 fine resulted.

Five men picked for Barrington school board

Five men were chosen at the polls to serve as the board of education for the recently consolidated community high school district No. 224, of Barrington. Of the 122 total votes cast, Corliss D. The middle of the street parking test made in Des Plaines was found to be unsound. In an effort to solve the ever-present parking problem a Sunday morning test was made on 60 foot wide Ellinwood street in Des Plaines. So much confusion reigned that the idea was given up. However, it was stated the idea would probably work on an 80-foot wide street.

Libertyville plans lights for ball diamond park

Libertyville Community club met recently and gave its ok to plans for lights at Butler Lake to permit playing of night softball and other sports. Estimate of cost of lights, including installation is $4,500. If ordered immediately, equipment is expected in six weeks.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: If a veteran rents or buys a farm, would he be considered as self-employed? Could he receive self-employment compensation for any month his net income was less than $100?

Answer: Yes; however, he must keep a record showing income and expenses. Each month is considered as five (5) weeks. Therefore, the maximum period he would receive self-employment compensation would be ten (10) months.

Question: Does the $500 paid by the Veterans' Administration for short intensive courses include the purchase of musical instruments?

Answer: No; however, books will be purchased. There is also a limitation on the amount of drafting equipment purchased by the Veterans' Administration.

Question: How can a man who served in the Navy Air Force obtain a record of his flying hours in case of a lost log book?

Answer: A duplicate record may be secured by writing the Bureau of Navy Personnel, Officer Performance, Washington, D. C. If the veteran was an enlisted man, he should write to the Records Division, Bureau of Navy Personnel, Washington, D. C.

Question: If a veteran is officially reported as missing in action, is his wife eligible for widow preference on Federal civil service examinations?

Answer: No. Claims for widow preference may be allowed on the basis of an official notification that the veteran has died in action. They are not allowed on the basis of evidence that he is missing.

Question: Is it true that the government pays all the interest on the loans veterans get under the G. I. Bill?

Answer: No, it is not. During the first year of the loan, the Veterans Administration will pay the interest on that part of the loan which is guaranteed. Thus, if a veteran gets a $4,000 loan, the Veterans Administration will pay the interest on $2,000, or $80 (at 4%). The veteran must pay the balance himself.

SUES FOR $50,000

Richard Colm, a minor, by his father, William Colm, has sued James Valentine in Superior court for $50,000 damages for injuring the boy with his automobile. It is charged that on March 1 last the boy was standing on the shoulder of Waukegan road at W. Lake avenue, Glenview, when Valentine driving on Waukegan road ran into the boy and seriously injured him.

Your weekly treat recipe

Occasionally some of you folks ask me for unusual recipes. This week I have one that is not only unusual, but delicious—Soured Cream Cocoanut Pie. It's easy to make and will add much to your meal.

Soured Cream Cocoanut Pie

3 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup Soured Cream
1 can moist cocoanut—4 oz.

Beat egg yolks, sugar, and salt together with a rotary beater for five minutes. Combine flour and cinnamon and add to egg yolk mixture. Mix soured cream, cocoanut and vanilla together and add. Pour into an unbaked pie shell. Bake on a rack placed in the lowest groove in a 450 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 300 degrees. Raise rack to the center and continue to bake for 20 to 25 minutes or until filling shrinks a little from the crust and is puffed and lightly browned. Top with brown sugar meringue (your regular meringue recipe, but use brown sugar and rub it through a sieve).

MT. PROSPECT

Magnus Atwood, who died intestate in Chicago, March 2, left a $2,000 estate, all in personal property. His heirs are his widow, Madelia of 211 W. Foundry Rd., Mt. Prospect, and three children. His son Clarence was named administrator of the estate.

In the future

Things to come — An automatic release which opens parachutes at certain altitudes. It is a barometer-like instrument which will pull the ripcord on a parachute at any selected altitude between 500 and 20,000 feet. A new light ray which will enable more accurate optical lenses. It can make measurements ten times more accurate than the cadmium ray which measures down to 600,000ths of a centimeter. A knife rack which automatically hones the blade when the knife is pulled out. A new two-row cotton picker which its makers estimate will do the work of 100 men, picking about 15 acres a day. An automatic valve for the garden hose. It consists of a short end section of hose containing an automatic valve which releases water only when the user bends the section. Vestpocket orange juice. It is a tablet which will turn a glass of water into the same amount of fruit juice. Rechargeable batteries which can be charged simply by plugging into any 110-volt AC circuit.

Christian Science Lecture

Mr. George Channing, C. S. B. of San Francisco, Calif., a member of The Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture entitled "Christian Science: Practical Religion," Monday evening, May 6th, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington, in the Palatine High School Auditorium, Palatine, Ill.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

Out of the wreckage of war will come, for those with spiritual eyes to see, a clearer sense of Spirit's indestructible substance. For, trust in materiality will have been more clearly exposed for the folly it is. The only thing that can ever be destroyed is material sense and its objectification, matter, or materiality. Material sense, by the law of God, destroys itself. It suffers to its own destruction. Mortals will seem to be the sufferers in the degree that mortal sense is permitted to stand unblotted out by spiritual understanding. Spiritual understanding having been employed only too little, war, in its bitter ways, has done its part to strip mortal mind of its falsely apparent trustworthiness and compel recourse to Spirit, which blots out mortal mind. We can improve this lesson, if we will. We can build a better world, if we but seize upon and make real to our consciousness the spiritual fact of whatever the material senses behold of carnage and the results of carnage. The spiritual fact opposing destruction is construction. The spiritual fact opposing loss is gain — gain in perception of true being. The spiritual fact opposing ugliness is beauty. The spiritual fact opposing confusion is order. The spiritual fact opposing folly is wisdom. The spiritual fact opposing hate is love. The spiritual fact opposing death is life. And this construction, this gain, this beauty, this order, this wisdom, this love, this life, must become apparent through evidence understandable even to what is called human sense. For Mind, the omnipotent source of all spiritual reality, must (not should, nor can, but must) have its manifestation.

See how Mrs. Eddy puts the rule of reconstruction, or restoration, in Miscellaneous Writings (page 60) where she says: "Every material belief hints the existence of spiritual reality; and if mortals are instructed in spiritual things, it will be seen that material belief, in all its manifestations, reversed, will be found the type and representative of verities priceless, eternal, and just at hand."

May we understand and practice with increasing power the spiritual rule of reversal of material belief in all its manifestations. Let us hold ourselves to the high point of practicing the wisdom of Mind, the intelligence of Spirit, the beauty of Soul, the initiative of Principle, the substance of Life, the reality of Truth, and the power of Love, and thus prove ourselves to be the image and likeness of God. For Mind must have its manifestation. This is the law of divine Principle, ever available and always practical.

"Meet every adverse circumstance as its master"

Whether the difficulty is disease, loss, grief, dislocation, strife, lack of progress, lack of opportunity, insufficient ability, or any other evil condition, Christian Science brings to the one or ones concerned the unqualified assurance, backed now by the experience of countless thousands, that the difficulty is not insuperable.

Christian Science not only counsels such a one to meet the "adverse circumstances" as its master," but shows him how to do it.

To people in all walks of life — people who were already manifesting extraordinary ability, as well as those who were manifesting little — this Science, through its revelation of Truth, has supplied the courage, strength, and enlightenment necessary for rising above misfortune and limitation, and attaining the fullest experience of good they have known.

The complete statement of Christian Science and its scientifically Christian method of conquering disease and other evils is given in the Christian Science testbook,

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mrs. Caroline Schellin, who passed away seven years ago on May 11.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep
From which none ever wakes to weep.
A calm and undisturbed repose
Unbroken by the last of foes.
Asleep in Jesus, far from thee
Thy kindred and their grave may be.
But thine is still a blessed sleep,
From which none ever wakes to weep.

Loving Children.

Answer: No; however, books will be purchased. There is also a limitation on the amount of drafting equipment purchased by the Veterans' Administration.

Question: How can a man who served in the Navy Air Force obtain a record of his flying hours in case of a lost log book?

Answer: A duplicate record may be secured by writing the Bureau of Navy Personnel, Officer Performance, Washington, D. C. If the veteran was an enlisted man, he should write to the Records Division, Bureau of Navy Personnel, Washington, D. C.

Question: If a veteran is officially reported as missing in action, is his wife eligible for widow preference on Federal civil service examinations?

Answer: No. Claims for widow preference may be allowed on the basis of an official notification that the veteran has died in action. They are not allowed on the basis of evidence that he is missing.

Question: Is it true that the government pays all the interest on the loans veterans get under the G. I. Bill?

Answer: No, it is not. During the first year of the loan, the Veterans Administration will pay the interest on that part of the loan which is guaranteed. Thus, if a veteran gets a $4,000 loan, the Veterans Administration will pay the interest on $2,000, or $80 (at 4%). The veteran must pay the balance himself.

SUES FOR $50,000

Richard Colm, a minor, by his father, William Colm, has sued James Valentine in Superior court for $50,000 damages for injuring the boy with his automobile. It is charged that on March 1 last the boy was standing on the shoulder of Waukegan road at W. Lake avenue, Glenview, when Valentine driving on Waukegan road ran into the boy and seriously injured him.

Your weekly treat recipe

Occasionally some of you folks ask me for unusual recipes. This week I have one that is not only unusual, but delicious—Soured Cream Cocoanut Pie. It's easy to make and will add much to your meal.

Soured Cream Cocoanut Pie

3 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup Soured Cream
1 can moist cocoanut—4 oz.

Beat egg yolks, sugar, and salt together with a rotary beater for five minutes. Combine flour and cinnamon and add to egg yolk mixture. Mix soured cream, cocoanut and vanilla together and add. Pour into an unbaked pie shell. Bake on a rack placed in the lowest groove in a 450 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 300 degrees. Raise rack to the center and continue to bake for 20 to 25 minutes or until filling shrinks a little from the crust and is puffed and lightly browned. Top with brown sugar meringue (your regular meringue recipe, but use brown sugar and rub it through a sieve).

MT. PROSPECT

Magnus Atwood, who died intestate in Chicago, March 2, left a $2,000 estate, all in personal property. His heirs are his widow, Madelia of 211 W. Foundry Rd., Mt. Prospect, and three children. His son Clarence was named administrator of the estate.

In the future

Things to come — An automatic release which opens parachutes at certain altitudes. It is a barometer-like instrument which will pull the ripcord on a parachute at any selected altitude between 500 and 20,000 feet. A new light ray which will enable more accurate optical lenses. It can make measurements ten times more accurate than the cadmium ray which measures down to 600,000ths of a centimeter. A knife rack which automatically hones the blade when the knife is pulled out. A new two-row cotton picker which its makers estimate will do the work of 100 men, picking about 15 acres a day. An automatic valve for the garden hose. It consists of a short end section of hose containing an automatic valve which releases water only when the user bends the section. Vestpocket orange juice. It is a tablet which will turn a glass of water into the same amount of fruit juice. Rechargeable batteries which can be charged simply by plugging into any 110-volt AC circuit.

Christian Science Lecture

Mr. George Channing, C. S. B. of San Francisco, Calif., a member of The Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture entitled "Christian Science: Practical Religion," Monday evening, May 6th, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington, in the Palatine High School Auditorium, Palatine, Ill.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

Out of the wreckage of war will come, for those with spiritual eyes to see, a clearer sense of Spirit's indestructible substance. For, trust in materiality will have been more clearly exposed for the folly it is. The only thing that can ever be destroyed is material sense and its objectification, matter, or materiality. Material sense, by the law of God, destroys itself. It suffers to its own destruction. Mortals will seem to be the sufferers in the degree that mortal sense is permitted to stand unblotted out by spiritual understanding. Spiritual understanding having been employed only too little, war, in its bitter ways, has done its part to strip mortal mind of its falsely apparent trustworthiness and compel recourse to Spirit, which blots out mortal mind. We can improve this lesson, if we will. We can build a better world, if we but seize upon and make real to our consciousness the spiritual fact of whatever the material senses behold of carnage and the results of carnage. The spiritual fact opposing destruction is construction. The spiritual fact opposing loss is gain — gain in perception of true being. The spiritual fact opposing ugliness is beauty. The spiritual fact opposing confusion is order. The spiritual fact opposing folly is wisdom. The spiritual fact opposing hate is love. The spiritual fact opposing death is life. And this construction, this gain, this beauty, this order, this wisdom, this love, this life, must become apparent through evidence understandable even to what is called human sense. For Mind, the omnipotent source of all spiritual reality, must (not should, nor can, but must) have its manifestation.

See how Mrs. Eddy puts the rule of reconstruction, or restoration, in Miscellaneous Writings (page 60) where she says: "Every material belief hints the existence of spiritual reality; and if mortals are instructed in spiritual things, it will be seen that material belief, in all its manifestations, reversed, will be found the type and representative of verities priceless, eternal, and just at hand."

May we understand and practice with increasing power the spiritual rule of reversal of material belief in all its manifestations. Let us hold ourselves to the high point of practicing the wisdom of Mind, the intelligence of Spirit, the beauty of Soul, the initiative of Principle, the substance of Life, the reality of Truth, and the power of Love, and thus prove ourselves to be the image and likeness of God. For Mind must have its manifestation. This is the law of divine Principle, ever available and always practical.

"Meet every adverse circumstance as its master"

Whether the difficulty is disease, loss, grief, dislocation, strife, lack of progress, lack of opportunity, insufficient ability, or any other evil condition, Christian Science brings to the one or ones concerned the unqualified assurance, backed now by the experience of countless thousands, that the difficulty is not insuperable.

Christian Science not only counsels such a one to meet the "adverse circumstances" as its master," but shows him how to do it.

To people in all walks of life — people who were already manifesting extraordinary ability, as well as those who were manifesting little — this Science, through its revelation of Truth, has supplied the courage, strength, and enlightenment necessary for rising above misfortune and limitation, and attaining the fullest experience of good they have known.

The complete statement of Christian Science and its scientifically Christian method of conquering disease and other evils is given in the Christian Science testbook,

Officers to meet May 31

The first post-war annual convention of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States will be held in Chicago beginning May 31. The four day convention will be at the Congress hotel.

Col. James P. Hollers, National President, and Brig. Gen. E. A. Evans, Executive Secretary, were in Chicago April 27 and 28 conferring with local, state and county chapter officers, and plans for the convention are nearly completed. Several distinguished guests will address the convention, including the Honorable Robert P. Patterson, Secretary of War, General of the Army, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughn, Military Aide to the President.

This convention will be the occasion for reunions of officers of the various pre-war reserve regiments. It will also provide the new officers of World War II an opportunity to take part in the affairs of the ROA and to get acquainted with their national organization.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

Whenever I see Millie coming down the street, or talk to her, I am struck by a feeling that to her, life is a drama, and she is an actress. I am sure that Millie lives in a dream world, and that ordinary mortals are but strange gargoyles who strut and fret about her with little rhyme or reason.

Millie gives one that feeling because she is forever posing. Her whole life revolves about what Millie thinks, or rather, what Millie dreams of. She is the most affected personality that I have ever known.

She walks with a cat-like carriage. She talks as though her conversation is too lofty for mortals to comprehend. She coughs into her perfumed hanky with a dainty, apologetic air that you know she does not feel. She sneezes like a sick cat, and talks with a purr.

I know others like her, only not so much so. And I wonder whether her affectation is an evidence of her feeling of superiority or a means of hiding her sense of frustration with life. I really believe that it is the latter — that she has tried living, but prefers her dreams because she found the reality of life is too harsh for her sensitive nature. But realizing one's dreams is always an impossibility when they do not synchronize with the facts of life.

It is a good thing to dream. It is a means of relaxation, a compensation for disappointment, a builder of hope. We dream about what we have told the boss, and find relief for injured pride or anger. About the wealth we will some day have as the result of our invention or work, and find ourselves more willing to accept the drab monotony which, wrongly, we often ascribe to our work and our surroundings.

But affectation is not good. When we strive to live the person we are not, we find others are injured and alienated by our pretensions. We become stilted and stagy in our approach to life. We are not real, and because of that, we often lose the confidence and love of friendship. And life without friendship and genuine companionship is a pretty unhappy lot.

Mt. Prospect gets electric plant

To celebrate the installation of their own electric light and power service, the Mt. Prospect Improvement Association will give moving picture shows in William Wille's Hall Saturday and Monday evenings.

Mt. Prospect (Busseville), tho not incorporated, is growing faster than any of her sister villages. She already has her own power plant with no damage liable from falling trees. There is no chance for boodle from a home-owned service.

Poll tax to pay for highways in Elk Grove

Proposition to issue bonds for highway expenses failed to carry at the special election. The commissioners have decided to levy a $3 a head to help make up the deficit: as the poll tax was not voted down April 4.

Schaumburg and Roselle ball game

Schaumburg and Roselle combined baseball team will play their first game in F. W. Nerge's baseball park, Schaumburg Center, Sunday against the Elgin North Ends. The boys have purchased new baseball suits. Sunday they will play host to the Columbia Athletic culb of Elgin.

Northbrook Notes (Shermerville)

Shermerville village council passes special assessment ordinance for laying of 6 and 8 inch water mains.

Lee Lagesse was shot and killed while on police duty breaking up a fight at Bradley, Ill.

Concert given by Arlington's Caruso

Elbert Wheeler, the Caruso of Arlington Heights, ably assisted by Miss Belle MacFarland, violinist, and Miss Isabelle Cuny, pianist, gave a joint concert of classical music to a large and appreciative audience in the Arlington Opera House. Some say Mr. Wheeler is destined to become a famous grand opera tenor. The editor is always busy on his paper Thursday evening and could not attend.

Seek Postmaster for Arlington Heights

Wm. H. Meyer, Jr., and Ernest Malzahn are rival candidates for position as postmaster at Arlington Heights. Mr. Meyer is a model young man, a graduate of parochial and public school, and with sufficient political pull may get the job, retaining Arthur McElhose as his assistant. Mr. Malzahn also has desires for the postmastership and hopes President Wilson will pick him for the job.

Palatine corn

Attention is called to the fact that it is unlawful to plant or raise corn or other plants that grow to such heights near the sidewalks. The authorities will be compelled to cut down corn or other plants that are contrary to ordinance.

Vera Happ to wed Saturday

Saturday, May 11, the Northbrook St. Norberts church will be the scene of the marriage ceremony of Miss Vera Happ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Happ of Northbrook to Mr. William Water, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Water of Saginaw, Michigan.

Miss Happ's sister, Miss Irene Happ, will serve as maid of honor and Mrs. Elsie Kennedy will be her bridesmaid. The best man for the groom will be Jack Water and Emery Kennedy will act as usher.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be held at the home of the brides parents. The couple plan to spend a two weeks honeymoon in New Orleans and upon their return will make their home in Bay City, Mich., where the groom is employed.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stippick of Arlington Heights announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to Mr. Donald Kiehl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kiehl of Palatine.

Jane Dearie becomes bride of James O'Neill

Roderick Photo

Visiting the Ray Koltz family in Harvard Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patrick of Arlington.

The Arlington Heights St. James Catholic church was the scene of a very beautiful wedding Saturday, May 4, when at 3 p.m., Miss Jane Dearie, daughter of Mr. Edward B. Dearie of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Mr. James B. O'Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Neill of Wilmette. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend George Stier. Palms, gladioli, and white snap dragans banked the altar.

Miss Dearie, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a dress of gleaming white satin, fashioned with long pointed sleeves, sweetheart neckline and a very long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of white satin. The brides bouquet was made up of split white carnations, containing three white orchids in the center from which fell white satin streamers. A pearl necklace was her only jewelery.

The bride chose her sister, Mrs. Charles Calvin, as matron of honor. Miss Joan Dearie, her younger sister, Mrs. Thomas Subastian of Chicago, Miss Betty Wallace of Oklahoma and Chicago (fiance of her late brother, Edward), and Miss Delores Susral of Chicago, were the bridesmaids. The attendants were dressed alike in gowns of light blue net, picture hats, trimmed to match the net in their dresses, short white gloves and white sandals. The matron of honor carried an orchid surrounded by coral gladioli, while the bridesmaids carried coral gladioli.

Dave Krafterford of Wilmette served as the bridegroom's best man. His ushers were Charles Dearie, brother of the bride, Bill McGivern of Chicago, Jim Streater of Wilmette and Jack O'Neill, his brother. They all wore tuxedos and had boutonniers of white carnations.

The groom's mother was unable to attend her son's wedding due to illness.

A rather lovely and touching gesture was made by the bride when she placed a bouquet of flowers at the foot of the Blessed Virgin Altar. As Miss Dearie and her matron of honor knelt to pray, Miss Florence Lunning sang Ave Maria.

A wedding reception was held at the Oak Park Arms Hotel for 175 guests. A buffet dinner was served as the bride and groom cut their huge wedding cake. Among the many guests were friends and relatives from Wilmette, Glencoe, Highland Park, Evanston, Oak Park and Chicago.

The bride worked for the Encyclopedia Britannica in Chicago and the groom received his honorable discharge from the army September, 1945 after serving with the 82nd airborne division for 3 years.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill are spending their honeymoon at the Edgewater Park hotel in Gulfport, Mississippi.

Wedding bells for Mel Garms, Shirley Rudolph

A double ring ceremony uniting Miss Shirley Marie Rudolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rudolph of Des Plaines, in marriage to Melvin Garms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garms of Palatine, took place May 4 at 5 p.m. The wedding was held in the rectory of Father Linden's church in Des Plaines. Father Linden joined the young couple together by repeating the solemn marriage vows.

The bride was attired in a white nylon gown and wore a fingertip veil that was held in place by a white tiara. Her bouquet consisted of white roses and streamers.

Miss Pat Bosworth, the brides cousin, was maid of honor and wore an aqua dress of ninon. Her bouquet was made up of pink carnations.

The best man for the bridegroom was Edward Bublitz of Arlington Heights.

Both mothers wore street length dresses of black with white accessories and had corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the immediate families at the Isaac Walton home in Des Plaines. A reception for 250 guests was held at the Issac Walton Hall later in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Garms are honeymooning in Florida for two weeks and upon their return will make their home for the present with Mrs. Garm's parents, on Manheim road in Des Plaines.

Stan Marker and Wilmette girl say 'I do'

Miss Jane Mizener, daughter of L. A. Mizener of 204 Ninth street, Wilmette, was married Saturday, May 4, to Lt. Stanley Norman Marker, AAF, of Palatine. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the First Congregational church of Wilmette with the Rev. Ross Cannon officiating. A reception at the Georgian hotel followed.

Miss Roberta Mizener served as maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Jerome Mizener, sister-in-law of the bride, of Ames, Iowa, Mrs. Beecher Abeles, and Miss Margaret McKenzie of Willmette.

Russell Marker served his brother as best man. Ushers were Wilson Mizener, brother of the bride, Alan Marker of Park Ridge, cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard Carter of Chicago.

While Miss Mizener was in Pasadena, shortly before Christmas, she was honored at several showers. On Wednesday evening, April 24, Mrs. Abeles and Miss McKenzie entertained at a personal shower in Miss McKenzie's home in honor of the bride. Mrs. Ira L. Reynolds of Wilmette gave the spinster dinner on Friday evening in her home.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Russell Marker of Palatine, Mrs. E. B. Mizener and her daughter, Miss Winifred Mizener, of Port Clinton, Ohio, and Mrs. D. J. Underwood of Pasadena.

Mary Conrad, Joseph Happ exchange vows

The St. Nichols church of Evanston was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Conrad to Mr. Joseph Happ, of Northbrook, last Saturday with Rev. Ed. Kniewell performing the ceremony.

Miss Conrad was fashionably gowned in white satin, complete with a long train and fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride chose as her maid of honor Miss Kay Conrad, who was attired in blue taffeta and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Conrad and Miss Florence Happ, were dressed alike in pink taffeta and also carried pink roses. The brides attendants all wore shoulder length veils.

Best man for the bridegroom was James Happ and ushers were Leo and Donald Happ all brothers of the groom.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony in the home of the bride, after which a reception for many guests was held.

Vera Happ to wed Saturday

Saturday, May 11, the Northbrook St. Norberts church will be the scene of the marriage ceremony of Miss Vera Happ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Happ of Northbrook to Mr. William Water, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Water of Saginaw, Michigan.

Miss Happ's sister, Miss Irene Happ, will serve as maid of honor and Mrs. Elsie Kennedy will be her bridesmaid. The best man for the groom will be Jack Water and Emery Kennedy will act as usher.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be held at the home of the brides parents. The couple plan to spend a two weeks honeymoon in New Orleans and upon their return will make their home in Bay City, Mich., where the groom is employed.

Roderick Photo

Visiting the Ray Koltz family in Harvard Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patrick of Arlington.

The Arlington Heights St. James Catholic church was the scene of a very beautiful wedding Saturday, May 4, when at 3 p.m., Miss Jane Dearie, daughter of Mr. Edward B. Dearie of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Mr. James B. O'Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Neill of Wilmette. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend George Stier. Palms, gladioli, and white snap dragans banked the altar.

Miss Dearie, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a dress of gleaming white satin, fashioned with long pointed sleeves, sweetheart neckline and a very long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of white satin. The brides bouquet was made up of split white carnations, containing three white orchids in the center from which fell white satin streamers. A pearl necklace was her only jewelery.

The bride chose her sister, Mrs. Charles Calvin, as matron of honor. Miss Joan Dearie, her younger sister, Mrs. Thomas Subastian of Chicago, Miss Betty Wallace of Oklahoma and Chicago (fiance of her late brother, Edward), and Miss Delores Susral of Chicago, were the bridesmaids. The attendants were dressed alike in gowns of light blue net, picture hats, trimmed to match the net in their dresses, short white gloves and white sandals. The matron of honor carried an orchid surrounded by coral gladioli, while the bridesmaids carried coral gladioli.

Dave Krafterford of Wilmette served as the bridegroom's best man. His ushers were Charles Dearie, brother of the bride, Bill McGivern of Chicago, Jim Streater of Wilmette and Jack O'Neill, his brother. They all wore tuxedos and had boutonniers of white carnations.

The groom's mother was unable to attend her son's wedding due to illness.

A rather lovely and touching gesture was made by the bride when she placed a bouquet of flowers at the foot of the Blessed Virgin Altar. As Miss Dearie and her matron of honor knelt to pray, Miss Florence Lunning sang Ave Maria.

A wedding reception was held at the Oak Park Arms Hotel for 175 guests. A buffet dinner was served as the bride and groom cut their huge wedding cake. Among the many guests were friends and relatives from Wilmette, Glencoe, Highland Park, Evanston, Oak Park and Chicago.

The bride worked for the Encyclopedia Britannica in Chicago and the groom received his honorable discharge from the army September, 1945 after serving with the 82nd airborne division for 3 years.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill are spending their honeymoon at the Edgewater Park hotel in Gulfport, Mississippi.

Wedding bells for Mel Garms, Shirley Rudolph

A double ring ceremony uniting Miss Shirley Marie Rudolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rudolph of Des Plaines, in marriage to Melvin Garms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garms of Palatine, took place May 4 at 5 p.m. The wedding was held in the rectory of Father Linden's church in Des Plaines. Father Linden joined the young couple together by repeating the solemn marriage vows.

The bride was attired in a white nylon gown and wore a fingertip veil that was held in place by a white tiara. Her bouquet consisted of white roses and streamers.

Miss Pat Bosworth, the brides cousin, was maid of honor and wore an aqua dress of ninon. Her bouquet was made up of pink carnations.

The best man for the bridegroom was Edward Bublitz of Arlington Heights.

Both mothers wore street length dresses of black with white accessories and had corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the immediate families at the Isaac Walton home in Des Plaines. A reception for 250 guests was held at the Issac Walton Hall later in the evening.

Cancer Of The Mouth

Charged with more than 4,000 of the 145,000 deaths from cancer every year in the United States, cancer of the mouth is no respector of age, person or creed.

Unfilled, sharp and jagged teeth, which cut and injure the gum, cheeks or tongue, are listed among the most probable predisposing factors in mouth cancer. As cancer seems to be caused by irritation of tissues, loose and ill-fitting dentures and bridgework are considered dangerous. Many cases of lip and mouth cancer have been traced to irritation caused by chewing tobacco or excessive smoking of pipes, cigars or cigarettes.

A cancer is a malignant tumor, which serves no useful purpose but grows at the expense of the rest of the body. Cancer cells have been described as gangster, or hoodlum, cells that run riot among the orderly cells of the body. They grow and multiply and prey on the normal cells about them.

Every organ in the body is made up of different kinds of cells. A normal cell has a comparatively short life. As it wears out, a new cell is formed to take its place by other cells dividing in half, each half growing to a complete cell. The process of cell death, replacement and repair is constantly taking place in the body. As long as there is a balance between the deceased and new cells, the organ is normal. But when more cells are formed than are needed, the extra ones perform no useful function, simply living off the other cells.

Although medical science has not as yet discovered the cause or causes of cancer, many authorities believe that some chemical change takes place in the body that causes the cells to become abnormal. Most causes of mouth cancer seem to follow longcontinued irritation, resulting from uncared for teeth and generally unhealthy conditions.

Fight famine

Give hints to ladies on how to save food

Home help is wanted. There's a job for every homemaker to do in getting food to the world's starving masses. The time to start is NOW.

Wheat and wheat products . . . food fats and oils . . . these are the mainstays in food supplies being shipped overseas to avert famine. The President's Emergency Committee has called on householders to "reduce your purchases of wheat products by 40 percent and fats by 20 percent."

Here are some ways to work out this reduction, by using other foods, and by being thrifty with the wheat and fat we do use — to the last crumb and drop.

POTATOES "Reach for a potato instead of bread". One small potato offers some vitamin C, besides.

At breakfast, let potatoes replace wheat cereal, toast, or biscuit.

If every minute counts, fry sliced potatoes country style, using a small amount of meat drippings to help them brown.

Make potato cakes from leftover mashed potatoes.

Let potato salad take the place of a sandwich.

In making stuffings for meat or poultry, use potatoes rather than bread.

Top meat pies and other baked dishes with fluffy mashed potatoes instead of pastry crust.

Serve creamed meat, chicken, or fish on mashed potato instead of on toast.

In place of poached egg on toast, try eggs baked in nests of mashed potato.

Make pancakes using fresh grated potato to replace a large part of the flour.

Let cold mashed potatoes do duty for some of the flour in making hot potato scones.

OATMEAL An average serving of oatmeal without sugar and cream equals approximately two slices of bread in food value.

If every man, woman and school child will replace two slices of bread with a serving of oatmeal each week, this would mean 135,000 tons of wheat for the hungry in 4 months time.

Use oatmeal to replace part of the wheat flour in making bread, biscuit, muffins, pancakes, cookies.

Use leftover cooked oatmeal as thickening for gravies, soups, and stews.

Use cooked or dry oatmeal as a binder in meat loaf, in place of bread crumbs.

Serve a Scotch soup occasionally, made with rolled oats, potatoes, meat broth and savory seasonings.

Use cooked oatmeal instead of bread in making fruit betties and puddings. (To be continued next week).

Cancer Of The Mouth

Charged with more than 4,000 of the 145,000 deaths from cancer every year in the United States, cancer of the mouth is no respector of age, person or creed.

Unfilled, sharp and jagged teeth, which cut and injure the gum, cheeks or tongue, are listed among the most probable predisposing factors in mouth cancer. As cancer seems to be caused by irritation of tissues, loose and ill-fitting dentures and bridgework are considered dangerous. Many cases of lip and mouth cancer have been traced to irritation caused by chewing tobacco or excessive smoking of pipes, cigars or cigarettes.

A cancer is a malignant tumor, which serves no useful purpose but grows at the expense of the rest of the body. Cancer cells have been described as gangster, or hoodlum, cells that run riot among the orderly cells of the body. They grow and multiply and prey on the normal cells about them.

Every organ in the body is made up of different kinds of cells. A normal cell has a comparatively short life. As it wears out, a new cell is formed to take its place by other cells dividing in half, each half growing to a complete cell. The process of cell death, replacement and repair is constantly taking place in the body. As long as there is a balance between the deceased and new cells, the organ is normal. But when more cells are formed than are needed, the extra ones perform no useful function, simply living off the other cells.

Although medical science has not as yet discovered the cause or causes of cancer, many authorities believe that some chemical change takes place in the body that causes the cells to become abnormal. Most causes of mouth cancer seem to follow longcontinued irritation, resulting from uncared for teeth and generally unhealthy conditions.

Fight famine

Give hints to ladies on how to save food

Home help is wanted. There's a job for every homemaker to do in getting food to the world's starving masses. The time to start is NOW.

Wheat and wheat products . . . food fats and oils . . . these are the mainstays in food supplies being shipped overseas to avert famine. The President's Emergency Committee has called on householders to "reduce your purchases of wheat products by 40 percent and fats by 20 percent."

Here are some ways to work out this reduction, by using other foods, and by being thrifty with the wheat and fat we do use — to the last crumb and drop.

POTATOES "Reach for a potato instead of bread". One small potato offers some vitamin C, besides.

At breakfast, let potatoes replace wheat cereal, toast, or biscuit.

If every minute counts, fry sliced potatoes country style, using a small amount of meat drippings to help them brown.

Make potato cakes from leftover mashed potatoes.

Let potato salad take the place of a sandwich.

In making stuffings for meat or poultry, use potatoes rather than bread.

Top meat pies and other baked dishes with fluffy mashed potatoes instead of pastry crust.

Serve creamed meat, chicken, or fish on mashed potato instead of on toast.

In place of poached egg on toast, try eggs baked in nests of mashed potato.

Make pancakes using fresh grated potato to replace a large part of the flour.

Let cold mashed potatoes do duty for some of the flour in making hot potato scones.

OATMEAL An average serving of oatmeal without sugar and cream equals approximately two slices of bread in food value.

If every man, woman and school child will replace two slices of bread with a serving of oatmeal each week, this would mean 135,000 tons of wheat for the hungry in 4 months time.

Use oatmeal to replace part of the wheat flour in making bread, biscuit, muffins, pancakes, cookies.

Use leftover cooked oatmeal as thickening for gravies, soups, and stews.

Use cooked or dry oatmeal as a binder in meat loaf, in place of bread crumbs.

Serve a Scotch soup occasionally, made with rolled oats, potatoes, meat broth and savory seasonings.

Use cooked oatmeal instead of bread in making fruit betties and puddings. (To be continued next week).

Soprano star at Orchestra hall

Marion Claire, soprano star of radio's popular Chicago Theater of the Air opera and operetta series, will appear as guest soloist at Orchestra Hall with the all-male glee club of the Chicago Association of Commerce on Thursday night, May 16. This concert will not be broadcast.

The Club, one of Chicago's most unique musical organizations, has a membership of ninety-five men, representing most of the established industries in the metropolitan area. This will be the organization's thirty-fourth annual Spring concert at Orchestra Hall.

Tractor carburetor adjustment can save much fuel

Would you be willing to spend a few minutes to save several gallons of fuel a day? H. P. Bateman and J. A. Weber, agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, say a poor carburetor adjustment on a tractor is the major cause of fuel wasting. Usually the mixture is too rich, having been set up for easy starting or more power when the tractor is cold. Rarely is the mixture too lean, which causes overheating and loss of power.

And it's easy to adjust the mixture. About the simplest and best way outside a laboratory test, Weber & Bateman say, is this: After the tractor is warmed up, put a load on the tractor and reduce the amount of fuel in the mixture until the engine begins to falter. Then open the jet just a wee bit beyond the point where the engine runs smoothly.

It's as simple as that, and if the carburetor is out of adjustment, that simple adjustment can save you as much as a gallon or more of fuel an hour.

Promotions given by Public Service

In a double promotion announced by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, George S. Bartlett was named assistant to vice-president in charge of electric stations and substations and E. D. Sheehan was named northern division vice-president to succeed Bartlett.

Both promotions are effective immediately.

C. S. Bartlett

Bartlett, who has been with the company for 27 years, has served in the utility's northern division since 1926, first as operating superintendent and for the past year and a half as division vice-president. His new headquarters will be in the company's general offices in Chicago.

E. D. Sheehan

Sheehan, who returned to the company last week after three years of war service as Lt. Commander in the navy, was formerly assistant to the southern division vice president at Joliet. He has been with the utility since 1925. His new headquarters will be at Northbrook.

Serving Bread

Avoid serving too much bread at a meal. Left on a plate, bread may become dry and is sometimes thrown away. When slicing a loaf, cut slices at table as needed. Halving slices may further lessen waste.

Time is ripe

Get equipment now to fight garden pest

A small duster or sprayer is your means of defense against garden insects. Prepare now to defend your garden with it, urges H. B. Petty, extension entomologist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The well-stocked anti-insect arsenal will contain some three percent dust, ¾ percent rotenone, and nicotine sulfate for nicotine dust preparation. Or, if you prefer to use sprays instead of dusts, get water-wettable DDT powder, nicotine sulfate, a little dehydrated lime and a rotenone concentrate either as ground derris or cube or as an emulsifiable rotenone spray.

DDT will give effective control of all three common potato pests, leafhopper on beans, onion thrips and European corn borer. Rotenone kills Mexican bean beetles, bean leaf beetles, squash vine borers and cucumber beetles. The nicotine and lime take care of cabbage aphids.

White grubs, wireworms and cutworms — sometimes squash bugs too — are not generally affected by these insecticides.

A common defense against cutworms is to put paper collars around transplants. Poison bran bait will give fairly good control of the cutworms themselves, however.

Poison bran bait is composed of one ounce of Paris green mixed thoroughly with one pound of coarse bran. The mixture should be rather flaky, being wet slightly with water or with three-fourths cup of SAE-20 lubricating oil. It should be broadcast about sundown a few days before the garden is planted. One pound will cover a garden 50 by 75 feet.

Buying a small duster or sprayer is one of your first steps in controlling insects, Petty reminds the home gardener. A good duster costs around $1.50, the sprayer may cost as much as $3.00 or $4.00.

Cheesecloth dusters are used by some gardeners, but Petty believes dusting equipment more than pays for itself by saving insecticide and by providing more effective insect control.

The amount of insecticide, or the number of applications needed, depends on the intensity of the insect infestation.

Mastitis control

Special dairy meeting set for next Wednesday

What is expected to be one of the most educational meetings for the dairy industry ever held in this section of Illinois is scheduled to take place in St. Charles Wednesday night, May 15, when Dr. W. E. Petersen, dairy research specialist of the University of Minnesota will speak on the dairy cow and tell of the latest development in mastitis control.

Dairy farmers and dairy leaders have been invited to attend this meeting which will be held in the high school auditorium at St. Charles. Dr. Petersen, who is in great demand as a speaker, has spoken to numerous large dairy audiences throughout the United States and Canada.

Winer of the Borden Award in 1942 for the greatest contribution for that year to the advancement of dairying, and known the country over for his mechanical cow that enables milk to be extracted from the amputated udder of a cow, Dr. Petersen will give a scientific explanation of how a cow manufactures milk, how she lets it down and how she holds it up. He will give reasons for fast milking, for more sustained production and better udder health.

Regarded as one of the country's greatest authorities on mastitis, its causes and treatment, Dr. Petersen will devote a portion of his talk to that subject, which is of great interest to dairymen.

Several other features will be presented during the evening after which refreshments will be served.

Notice to advertisers

Farm page advertisers are hereby notified that all lineage for the farm pages must be in the hands of the publishers by 5 p. m. Tuesday of each week.

Use alfalfa meal to save soybean meal

By mixing one part of ground alfalfa hay with two parts of soybean meal, shelled corn and supplement were successfully fed free choice to growing-fattening pigs on pasture. These results were given by D. E. Becker at the Illinois Swine Growers' Day on April 12, and are consistent with the experience that several Illinois hog raisers have reported.

In previous tests where the soybean meal was self-fed free choice, without the alfalfa meal addition, the supplement has been too palatable, and the pigs increased the cost of the ration by eating about twice the amount of meal needed to balance the ration.

Dr. J. L. Krider, Department of Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois, recommends two parts of soybean meal to one of good quality alfalfa meal and a ration of 3 to 1 for poorer quality alfalfa meal.

Turtle Islands

In the southern Pacific, many miles west of the mainland of Peru there lies a clump of islands, the Galapagos group. They once had in abundance the strangest reptilian inhabitants which have yet managed to continue an unbroken line of descent from those gigantic tortoises which roamed the earth in the Age of Reptiles. The word "Galapagos" is the Spanish word for "turtles," and this group of islands was so named by the original Spanish discoverers on account of the great number of enormous turtles which populated these waterless, rocky and uninviting islets.

Alfalfa meal valuable addition to drylot rations

Continuing with the search for proper vitamin requirements of a brood sow ration, Dr. J. L. Krider, Department of Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois, found that 12 percent of alfalfa meal added to a drylot ration gave satisfactory results. The basal ration used contained corn, soybean meal, Menhaden fish meal, digester tankage, simple mineral mixture and fortified cod-liver oil. All known vitamins were supplied by this ration, yet it proved nutritionally inadequate. Nearly complete "lactation failure" resulted when the basal ration was fed in drylot during growth, gestation and lactation. The addition of 10 to 12 percent of alfalfa meal during gestation and lactation reduced number of services per conception from 2 to 1, increased average number of pigs farrowed from 6.2 to 10.0, and percentage of strong pigs farrowed from 39 to 60.

The value of the alfalfa meal is attributed to its content of water-soluble vitamins, known and unknown. The trials are being continued in an effort to determine the unknown vitamins in the alfalfa meal which make it such a valuable addition to drylot rations.

Arlington Heights cows set record

Three registered Holstein-Friesian cows in the dairy herd of Carl H. Will, Arlington Heights, have recently completed official production records in Herd Test of more than 450 pounds of butterfat, The Holstein-Freisian Association of America announces.

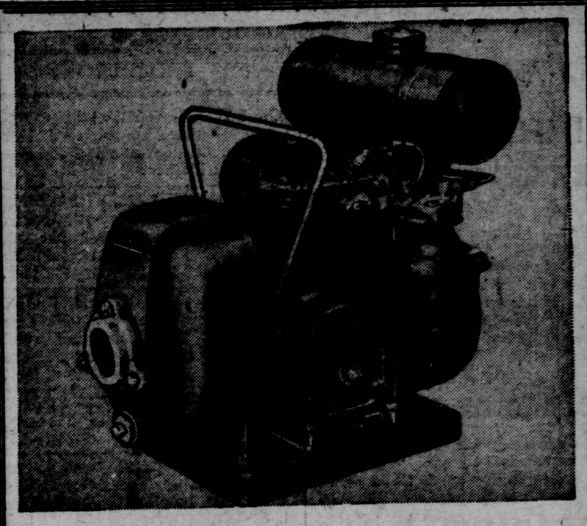

The highest producer of the three was Willo Miss Lucille Abbekerk 2324437 with a record of 480 pounds of butterfat and 13,090 pounds of milk. This is more than 2½ times the production of the average dairy cow in this nation. The record was made in 365 days on 2 milkings daily, at the age of 2 years 4 months. Her sire is Illini Canary Mabel Flood 765-379.

The second highest producer was Bonus Lea Abbekerk Piebe 2023259 with 479 pounds of butterfat and 12,685 pounds of milk, made in 365 days on 2 milkings daily, at the age of 6 years 3 months. Her sire is Montvic Colanthus Abbekerk (84429 CHB) 757566.

The other high producer was Willo Way Bessie Burke Perfection 2369934, who, at the age of 2 years 1 month, made 469 pounds of butterfat and 14,311 pounds of milk in 365 days on 2 milkings daily. Her sire is Oak Bend King Bess Perfection 808860.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

FEED A DESIRABLE RATION!

Feed MASTER MIX MASH

For efficient production and large, high quality eggs, keep a good laying mash, oyster shell, grit and water before the hens at all times. One foot of mash hopper space should be provided for every five birds. Feed scratch feed once or twice a day in a hopper or clean litter. Feed milk in some form. It is the most effective feed to maintain egg size. Feeds determine yolk color. Avoid free grass range, it causes uneven yolk color to which consumers object. Garbage or strong tainted feeds give eggs a tainted flavor.

Would you be willing to spend a few minutes to save several gallons of fuel a day? H. P. Bateman and J. A. Weber, agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, say a poor carburetor adjustment on a tractor is the major cause of fuel wasting. Usually the mixture is too rich, having been set up for easy starting or more power when the tractor is cold. Rarely is the mixture too lean, which causes overheating and loss of power.

And it's easy to adjust the mixture. About the simplest and best way outside a laboratory test, Weber & Bateman say, is this: After the tractor is warmed up, put a load on the tractor and reduce the amount of fuel in the mixture until the engine begins to falter. Then open the jet just a wee bit beyond the point where the engine runs smoothly.

It's as simple as that, and if the carburetor is out of adjustment, that simple adjustment can save you as much as a gallon or more of fuel an hour.

Promotions given by Public Service

In a double promotion announced by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, George S. Bartlett was named assistant to vice-president in charge of electric stations and substations and E. D. Sheehan was named northern division vice-president to succeed Bartlett.

Both promotions are effective immediately.

C. S. Bartlett

Bartlett, who has been with the company for 27 years, has served in the utility's northern division since 1926, first as operating superintendent and for the past year and a half as division vice-president. His new headquarters will be in the company's general offices in Chicago.

E. D. Sheehan

Sheehan, who returned to the company last week after three years of war service as Lt. Commander in the navy, was formerly assistant to the southern division vice president at Joliet. He has been with the utility since 1925. His new headquarters will be at Northbrook.

Serving Bread

Avoid serving too much bread at a meal. Left on a plate, bread may become dry and is sometimes thrown away. When slicing a loaf, cut slices at table as needed. Halving slices may further lessen waste.

Time is ripe

A small duster or sprayer is your means of defense against garden insects. Prepare now to defend your garden with it, urges H. B. Petty, extension entomologist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The well-stocked anti-insect arsenal will contain some three percent dust, ¾ percent rotenone, and nicotine sulfate for nicotine dust preparation. Or, if you prefer to use sprays instead of dusts, get water-wettable DDT powder, nicotine sulfate, a little dehydrated lime and a rotenone concentrate either as ground derris or cube or as an emulsifiable rotenone spray.

DDT will give effective control of all three common potato pests, leafhopper on beans, onion thrips and European corn borer. Rotenone kills Mexican bean beetles, bean leaf beetles, squash vine borers and cucumber beetles. The nicotine and lime take care of cabbage aphids.

White grubs, wireworms and cutworms — sometimes squash bugs too — are not generally affected by these insecticides.

A common defense against cutworms is to put paper collars around transplants. Poison bran bait will give fairly good control of the cutworms themselves, however.

Poison bran bait is composed of one ounce of Paris green mixed thoroughly with one pound of coarse bran. The mixture should be rather flaky, being wet slightly with water or with three-fourths cup of SAE-20 lubricating oil. It should be broadcast about sundown a few days before the garden is planted. One pound will cover a garden 50 by 75 feet.

Buying a small duster or sprayer is one of your first steps in controlling insects, Petty reminds the home gardener. A good duster costs around $1.50, the sprayer may cost as much as $3.00 or $4.00.

Cheesecloth dusters are used by some gardeners, but Petty believes dusting equipment more than pays for itself by saving insecticide and by providing more effective insect control.

The amount of insecticide, or the number of applications needed, depends on the intensity of the insect infestation.

Mastitis control

Special dairy meeting set for next Wednesday

What is expected to be one of the most educational meetings for the dairy industry ever held in this section of Illinois is scheduled to take place in St. Charles Wednesday night, May 15, when Dr. W. E. Petersen, dairy research specialist of the University of Minnesota will speak on the dairy cow and tell of the latest development in mastitis control.

Dairy farmers and dairy leaders have been invited to attend this meeting which will be held in the high school auditorium at St. Charles. Dr. Petersen, who is in great demand as a speaker, has spoken to numerous large dairy audiences throughout the United States and Canada.

Winer of the Borden Award in 1942 for the greatest contribution for that year to the advancement of dairying, and known the country over for his mechanical cow that enables milk to be extracted from the amputated udder of a cow, Dr. Petersen will give a scientific explanation of how a cow manufactures milk, how she lets it down and how she holds it up. He will give reasons for fast milking, for more sustained production and better udder health.

Regarded as one of the country's greatest authorities on mastitis, its causes and treatment, Dr. Petersen will devote a portion of his talk to that subject, which is of great interest to dairymen.

Several other features will be presented during the evening after which refreshments will be served.

Use alfalfa meal to save soybean meal

By mixing one part of ground alfalfa hay with two parts of soybean meal, shelled corn and supplement were successfully fed free choice to growing-fattening pigs on pasture. These results were given by D. E. Becker at the Illinois Swine Growers' Day on April 12, and are consistent with the experience that several Illinois hog raisers have reported.

In previous tests where the soybean meal was self-fed free choice, without the alfalfa meal addition, the supplement has been too palatable, and the pigs increased the cost of the ration by eating about twice the amount of meal needed to balance the ration.

Dr. J. L. Krider, Department of Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois, recommends two parts of soybean meal to one of good quality alfalfa meal and a ration of 3 to 1 for poorer quality alfalfa meal.

Turtle Islands

In the southern Pacific, many miles west of the mainland of Peru there lies a clump of islands, the Galapagos group. They once had in abundance the strangest reptilian inhabitants which have yet managed to continue an unbroken line of descent from those gigantic tortoises which roamed the earth in the Age of Reptiles. The word "Galapagos" is the Spanish word for "turtles," and this group of islands was so named by the original Spanish discoverers on account of the great number of enormous turtles which populated these waterless, rocky and uninviting islets.

MOUNT EMBLEM
ILLINOIS' MOST BEAUTIFUL CEMETERY
"Without the Gates of the City"
You are cordially invited to enjoy the beauty and fragrance of thousands of lilacs now in bloom. With thousands of lilac bushes in bloom, and the largest display of flowering shrubs in the vicinity of Chicago, the grounds are particularly beautiful at Lilac Time.
Mount Emblem is the site of the Old Dutch Mill, built in 1850. This mill is a rare tribute to the ingenuity, perseverance and craftsmanship of a past age. The gristmill machinery is in place just as it was many years ago when grinding grain, an interesting exhibit.
[Enjoy the quiet loveliness of an evening at Mount Emblem during the week. An hour spent in the solace of shadows cast by the setting sun will be long remembered.]
[Each evening, Sacred and Concert music is broadcast across the cemetery from the Old Dutch Mill which serves as a Chime Tower. The gates are open until dusk.]

500 friends see Betty Lou Scamehorn and Earl Grabenkort exchange vows

In the Barrington Salem Evangelical church Saturday, May 4, at 8 o'click before an audience of 500 friends and relatives, a simple and impressive wedding ceremony took place with the most important roles enacted by Betty Lou Scamehorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Scamehorn, S. State rd., Arlington Heights, and Earl Pomeroy Grabenkort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grabenkort, 137 W. Lincoln ave., Barrington.

Olive Walt and Harriet Bartholomew, friends of the bride, served as bridesmaids, wearing turquoise gowns and carrying yellow carnations and white orchids and white daisies. Janice Stahl, sister of the groom, served as matron of honor and wore a yellow nylon faille dress with net skirt and carried a cascade of white carnations and yellow daisies. The headdresses of the attendants matched their gowns.

Willard Grabenkort, brother of the groom, served as best man. Donald Scamehorn, the bride's brother, Jack Shepard, Charles Drauden and Burton Wendt served as ushers. The groom and his attendants were dressed in tuxedoes with white carnations for boutonnieres.

In a white gown, the bodice of which was embroidered satin, with a long sheer skirt and train and a finger tip veil that fell from an orange blossom tiara, the bride, carrying white roses, came down the aisle on the arm of her father to the strains of the bridal chorus.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Dore N. Ester, assisted by Rev. Carl Buch, Industrial Chaplain of the Benjamin Electric Co. of Des Plaines, where the bride had been employed since graduating from the Arlington Heights high school.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the Barrington high school, was honorably discharged from the Illinois 33rd Division of the United States Army, having served for over three years in the Pacific theatre, including the invasion of the Philippines and the Army of Occupation of Japan. He is the holder of the Purple Heart and three battle stars.

Normandie Studio.

Miss Mary Ann Eiler, a friend of the bride, lent her charm in singing "Because", "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Evelyn Grabenkort, the groom's sister, played the organ throughout the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was enjoyed in the church parlor where Dick Everett, Arlington Heights, played classical and other appropriate music, and as the bride and groom cut the cake Dick played "It Had to be You". After cutting the first piece of cake, Mrs. Herbert Homuth took over the duty of cutting for the guests. Bessie Linnenkohl, Mt. Prospect, poured coffee to go with the sandwiches. Mrs. Dore N. Ester did the honors of serving punch.

Reservations having been made in one of Chicago's hotels, the bride and groom quietly stole away. After a week's vacation they will settle down to domestic life in an apartment on Russell st., Barrington.

Lorraine Pohlman and Alvin Pahlke marry

Lorraine Pohlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Pohlman of Elk Grove, was united in marriage to Alfred Pahlke, son of Mr. Alvin Pahlke of Barrington. The wedding took place in the Schaumburg Lutheran church May 5, at 3 p.m., the Rev. M. Behling officiating. The church was decorated with lilacs and palms. Miss Mary Ann Eiler of Arlington Heights sang the "Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Lawrence Pohlman, brother of the bride, at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white gown fashioned with lace tunic top with a sweetheart neckline, the net skirt having a long train. She wore a full length veil of net with lace insets that was held in place by a pearled dutch bonnet. She carried a white leather bible on which rested an orchid from which streamers fell knotted with sweetpeas. Her jewelry were a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and a gold bracelet that had belonged to the groom's mother.

Miss Gertrude Pohlman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her turquoise dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice and cap sleeves of faille and a full lace skirt. She wore a dutch hat, gauntlets of lace, and carried a white testament on which rested pink roses from which fell streamers knotted with sweetpeas.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Aurelia Hagen, Mrs. Bernice Grey and Mrs. Verona Hinricks. They were dressed alike in turquoise gown of the same style as the maid of honor's except net replaced the lace used in the former's gown. Each carried white testaments, decked with yellow roses from which fell streamers knotted with sweetpeas.

Diane Hattendorf was the flower girl and was dressed identical to the bridesmaids. The same flower scheme prevailed the only difference being pink roses in place of yellow. Ring bearer was Gerald Lee Nitz who wore a brown tweed suit, and carried the ring on a white satin pillow trimmed with white lace and satin ribbon.

William Pohlman, brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man. Edward Wesolowski, Edward Ankele and Reese Martin acted as ushers with Victor Pohlman as an honorary usher. The groom and his attendants wore boutonnieres of white carnations.

Mrs. Pohlman wore for her daughter's wedding an aqua and black crepe dress set off with a corsage of red and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held in the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran school hall for 50 guests. A reception was held in the evening at the Des Plaines Rand Park Field House for 350 guests. There was dancing to the music of Mel's Orchestra and a midnight luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Pahlke are enjoying a honeymoon to points North and will be at home upon their return at 507 Grove avenue, Barrington.

Fran Brockman, Anthony Bodor tie the knot

A double ring ceremony that united Miss Frances Brockman and Mr. Anthony Bodor, both of Arlington Heights, in holy matrimony took place Saturday afternoon at 4:30. It was held in Palatine at the home of Rev. W. Koester who repeated the solemn vows. Miss Brockman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brockman of Elkhorn, Wisconsin and Mr. Bodor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bodor of Arlington Heights.

The bride was attired in a brown suit set off with yellow accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow carnations.

Miss Marie Bodor, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore a green dress and also had a corsage of yellow carnations.

The brother of the bride, David Brockman of Elkhorn, was best man for the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the newlyweds, 635 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. A buffet luncheon was served to the guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodor had as their Sunday dinner and supper guests both of their parents and two of their grandmothers, Mrs. Katherine Bodor and Mrs. Minnie Burhke.

It was held in Palatine at the home of Rev. W. Koester who repeated the solemn vows. Miss Brockman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brockman of Elkhorn, Wisconsin and Mr. Bodor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bodor of Arlington Heights.

The bride was attired in a brown suit set off with yellow accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow carnations.

Miss Marie Bodor, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore a green dress and also had a corsage of yellow carnations.

The brother of the bride, David Brockman of Elkhorn, was best man for the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the newlyweds, 635 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. A buffet luncheon was served to the guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodor had as their Sunday dinner and supper guests both of their parents and two of their grandmothers, Mrs. Katherine Bodor and Mrs. Minnie Burhke.

In spite of shortages

Oleo still no substitute for butter

Americans showed little disposition to substitute oleomargarine for butter even under the most severe rationing of the latter food during 1945, articles in the Encyclopaedia Britannica Book of the Year just published reveal.

The American production of margarine during last year amounted to 591,000,000 pounds, compared with 588,000,000 pounds in 1944.

While these figures show a sizeable increase over the prewar consumption of margarine, they do not match the drop in natural butter production, according to the Britannica articles. In 1931 Americans consumed an average of 1.8 pounds of margarine annually, the 1945 per capita consumption was 3.9 pounds.

Before the war Americans consumed an average of 17 pounds of butter apiece each year. Last year's output of butter for civilian use came to approximately 1,427,000,000 pounds, or 11 pounds per capita. The 1945 butter production declined to the lowest point after 1925, the total output being 1,746,000,000 pounds compared with a pre-war average of 2,170,000,000 pounds per year. Government controls, directing milk into other products such as cheese, canned and dried milk were credited as major factors in that result, according to the Book of the Year. For milk production reached a new high record in 1945, three per cent above the previous record year 1943. Excellent pasturage, combined with abundant supplies of concentrated foods and a large number of cows on farms produced this record, and the total cash income of milk producers was also the highest ever.

Yet the seemingly paradoxical scarcity of butter amid the plenty of milk did not send housewives into grocery stores to buy appreciably more margarine. Despite the fact that margarine's average price during the year was 24.1 cents a pound, contrasted with an average price of 50 cents a pound for butter. High wartime salaries apparently made consumers prefer "all or nothing," and skimp on butter rather than calling for a substitute.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

ON STRIKE

We don't see any reason why a columnist shouldn't go on a strike the same as a steel worker, a coal miner, a dock worker or any other member of organized labor.

Of course, the columnists aren't organized, but what's the difference; we can walk out just the same. With everyone striking for higher wages, health security hospitalization and all the rest of it, why not a column writer.

If the government won't act to stop the coal strike and transportation is crippled so a reporter can't get around to cover his beat what then? Furthermore, we refuse to strain our eyes writing a column by candlelight. Enough is enough. Until conditions are materially improved "Tales of the Street" is on strike.

We can chase rabbits out of the garden and chop burdocks, but we're danged if we'll write a column until conditions improve. It's time the white collar worker and the farmer took a hand in things, so we're starting a movement. We've "walked out".

Democracy at work

Nip labor unions hold key to future of Japan

Japanese labor unions will determine in large part whether our occupation of the islands brings lasting democracy, according to Dr. Corwin Edwards, professor of economics at Northwestern University and member of an eight-man commission which recently completed a probe of Japanese industrial combines for the State Department.

"All the directives we can issue will do no lasting good unless we can develop in the islands enough strong groups which, like labor unions, stand to profit from a continuance of democratic ways and will fight for them after the allied armies pull out," Dr. Edwards said.

He pointed out that labor unions, suppressed during the war, have made substantial beginnings under the occupation. They are now striking and bargaining successfully for better wages and working conditions. "Strikes in Japan are unique," he explained. "The miners conducted a strike recently by locking out the management and then producing twice as much coal as before, while the street car employees struck by running the cars on schedule but refusing to collect fares."

Dr. Edwards believes that the sound economic future for Japan rests in the rise of small business, an increase in agricultural production, and less emphasis on foreign trade. "Part of Japan's foreign trade has been falsely supported by subsidies, cartels, and military expansion," he said. "With the ending of these artificial stimuli, foreign trade will decrease and the islands will tend to develop a less unbalanced economy."

Dr. Edwards defended the American policy under General MacArthur of working through the Japanese government during the occupation as "a brilliant move." He said it is extremely difficult for occidentals to understand Japanese customs and for the Japanese to understand our intentions. "By working through their government, however, each of us learns about the other and the burdens of the occupation are greatly reduced," he said.

It Happened Here

When He Sings

Hark to the thrasher when he sings!
From his treetop the golden notes he flings
North, south, east, west,
Up to heaven where choirs of the blest
Hearken the while and learn of him,
Recapturing notes grown weak and dim.
If one note falters from the choir,
Be sure the thrasher fashions it to his desire,
And singing, calls all heaven to hear
How sweet his mate is and how dear.

Redwings

Your generous allotment of space last week for the Redwing story is greatly appreciated. The largest crowd to ever watch an opener came out even though it was uncomfortably cool and extremely windy. Because of the turnout the team did not go into the red ink as is customary the first few Sundays each year.

We hope that you will continue to support us because we need a good crowd to meet our financial obligations. With good baseballs $22 per dozen, bats almost $3 each, umpires now $12, and visiting team's demands for a share of the receipts higher, it takes plenty of dimes, quarters and half dollars to keep a team operating every Sunday.

It is hoped that you will be able to find front page space each week for our article so that the many baseball fans in Arlington Heights and surrounding territory will always know what and how the Redwings are doing.

Youth Center

We, along with many other parents, greatly enjoyed the open house of the Youth Center last Wednesday. At this time we should like to remind the people of Arlington Heights that the Youth Center was "The Brain Child" of Dr. Matthew Faithe, a former high school teacher here, who 2½ years ago did much toward laying the ground work for this project. He was a teacher of unusual calibre and we are sorry he is no longer associated with the high school.

Wheat grain

I agree with James Tennery's letter in this column April 26th to a certain degree. Having lived as we did for several months in an Eleven unit court where most of the occupants were wives and children of army officers, and having seen not only half loaves of bread but many a nice piece of meat put into the garbage can and, after all this useless waste, we have seen many an empty beer and whiskey bottle going the same route. We didn't notice any of THEM thrown away only half emptied.

My opinion today is that if the people of this great country of ours really want to help feed starving and dying humanity, they should demand that congress get busy and see that all the available grain of America is turned into food making channels and let the distilleries and breweries set back and watch the God given grain do something besides create befuddled brains, educate youth to a life of crime, break up homes and cause misery, woe and sin in our land of plenty.

Let them watch us easily save the lives of millions of starving people with that grain they are now converting into a product that never did, and never will raise a Christian standard over any country. Christianity goes the limit to help raise all men to a higher level, wants to see them fed and clothed, while the liquor interests have kept many a family from having the bare necessities of life. Is it right that we, as a nation, should sell the souls of our young people into the hands of certain interests for a few paltry dollars? And doubly sad is the fact that they use the very essential God given food grains that are so badly needed today to feed a starving world.

I have had men try to hide behind that flimsy, thread bare excuse by telling me they could either take it or leave it alone. But I have yet to see the first man to prove to me that he can do it. Every one of them that says that DOESN'T LEAVE IT ALONE and they never will as long as we permit the stuff to be flourished before their eyes.

And I say all this after having read many of the smooth, misleading statements of The Wise (?) Old Judge, as he tries to side step the facts as God sees them.

AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

The Wheaton Antique Show was fun! Not because the exhibits were exceptionally exciting, but because I was with friends I particularly enjoy, and because I was ready for an all-day binge. It isn't always entirely what you see but with whom you do it, that makes for a successfully happy day, don't you agree?

It was fun to see and talk with the dealers one gets to know after repeated trips to antique shows. Mrs. Brendel, up Palatine way, and I, not only talk "antiques" but dogs, as well. You remember it was she who gave Lassie to us. Mrs. Lies, of Roselle, had a booth again this year, and one of the women in our group found a belt buckle there of unusual design and color. The Victorian Shop of Chicago display their things with taste, and nearly always have a distinctive collection. Virginia bought a pair of painted flower stands that are most attractive. The beautiful salmon-pink geraniums added to their charm, though they didn't go with the stands, more's the pity. Have you priced geraniums this Spring? Up here they are asking 75 cents apiece for them. Isn't that outrageous?

Speaking of antiques, I drove up to Walworth, Wis. the other morning. It is only ten miles or so from here. I stopped in at a shop that advertises "authentic antiques," and inquired about small tables. The owner of the shop had four on display, any one of which, would serve my purpose—but Jane, what prices! I timidly asked if she would consider an exchange of antiques between us. Oh, yes, she "simply loved to swap." But after some talk I could see that the arrangement would be far from an even exchange. Just the same, she wants to come to see my "collection." I do so love the things I have gathered over the years, though, I don't see how I could bear to sell one of them.

Did I tell you I have most of them housed in the little building we call "The Studio"? I think this wee spot was formerly used for a pump house—and for pigeons! It was unbelievably dirty when we first saw it, but it showed promise, and now with the new siding on, and windows taken from the old house, set in on three sides, it has become passably attractive. There is a cement basement with light on two sides where Rob keeps his tools and, he hopes, a work bench one of these days. From an outside staircase, I reach my room, and there I have my easel, paints, pictures, frames and antiques. There is a small balcony inside of this room reached by ladder, which I use for storage space.

The boys are intrigued, and always ask to take their friends in to show them "Mother's junk." Even the workmen around the place ask me all sorts of questions about it. Right now, I'd give a great deal to have one of them make some window boxes for it. It's just the kind of a building that cries for flower boxes filled with white petunias and red geraniums.

We had a flood of cards in the mail this morning from Bob Jr. Even though he is only a few miles away we don't see him nearly as often as we wish to, and it's good to get his notes now and then. Edward is going to get a laugh out of the one Bob sent to him. My hope is that he won't take him seriously—for this is what was written: "Dear Moon How's big doings on the farm? Have you found any more salamanders? Well, you go right out in the garden and find one for your Mother—that's a good boy. Bob."

It won't be long now before graduation day arrives for our two big boys. And don't think that isn't a shock to me. My first-born graduating from college, and my second—from high school! It's trite, I know, but the years ahead looked so far off when they were babies, yet how short they appear now.

I'm afraid I'm going to be one of those silly mothers who weep on graduation day, but it will be because I shall really be happy—and very proud.

With love, Mary.

P. S.—Virginia, who is filled with witticisms, says cheeringly: "Life really begins when your cheeks fall in, and your teeth fall out."

Youth groups open season at camp grounds

With the official season-opening at the Des Plaines Methodist Camp Ground May first, members of the Methodist Youth Foundation of Northwestern University, under the direction of Dr. G. Eugene Durham, associate minister of first Methodist Church, Evanston, gathered at the ground for a pre-season institute.

May 10 to 12 the Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship will convene at the camp to enjoy the early spring foliage and flowers while carrying on its program. Others scheduled for the first month of Camp Ground activities are the Nesei High School Christian Conference of 125 members, and on the 18th and 19th, the Baptist Youth Fellowship Executive Meeting.

The high spot of the camp season this year is June 30 through July 14 when well known speakers from different parts of the country will appear. Among these are Bishop J. Ralph Magee of the Chicago Area; Bishop Charles W. Brashares, Des Moines, Iowa; Dr. Harry Denman, Nashville, Tennessee; and Bishop Paul E. Martin, Little Rock, Arkansas. Many interesting choir and music events are allied with this occasion.

Those who occupy cottages at the camp for the summer will be moving in as soon as weather permits. Then the season's religious programs, also its lecture, music, entertainment, social, and recreation events, get progressively under way.

New head of TB institute

Dr. Earl E. Kleinschmidt, former associate National Medical Director of the Red Cross and an authority in the field of public health and preventive medicine, has been appointed Executive Director of The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County to succeed Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs who has retired.

Dr. Kleinschmidt has been in the army medical corps since 1944. Prior to that time he was associated with the Red Cross, and was Health Commissioner of Toledo, Ohio. He has taught at the University of Michigan and Loyola University School of Medicine.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

One of the top-secret agencies of the war was the Office of Strategic Services. International bankers, professors, ex-convicts, ministers, wrestlers, labor leaders, bluebloods from the wealthiest families, explorers—all were among the ranks of this fabulous organization. Singly, they lived through some of the wildest adventures of the war.

LT. COL. COREY FORD

Their story, masked in mystery for so long, is told in "Cloak and Dagger," by Lt. Col. Corey Ford and Major Alastair MacBain.

The O.S.S. dropped agents behind enemy lines everywhere. They organized and aided underground movements, rescued Allied fliers, sent back invaluable information on enemy activities.

In London, an organization known as the "Moles" worked at perfecting native dress, forging false documents, supplying agents with plausible "cover stories." There have been many testimonials as to the excellence of their work.

One of these comes from an O.S.S. agent who traveled from Switzerland to Austria in the uniform of a German first sergeant, and returned with quantities of military intelligence, including information on 15 important military targets that had not yet been bombed. En route to Vienna, on a train crowded with German military personnel, he was ordered by a Nazi major to check the credentials of every other soldier on the train. The bogus sergeant tried to beg off, but the major told him not to talk back. Dutifully, he checked the entire trainful, and found to his own surprise, that most of them were AWOL, and heading in the wrong direction to duck the war. He turned in a couple, just to avoid suspicion.

Jim Corbett, author of the Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Man-Eaters of Kumaon," has a rare kind of patriotism. He first volunteered his services to his country in World War I. He was 39 and was told bluntly that he was too old. He kept at the authorities until he was commissioned and given the job of taking the 70th Kumaon Labor Corps to France. In 1939, when he was 64, he tried again, and the authorities still thought he was too old. Again he out-argued them. Up until he was taken ill with tick typhus, he recruited for the Civil Pioneer Corps 1,400 men from the hills of Kumaon. When he recovered from that illness, he spent two years training soldiers for jungle warfare in Burma.

Brahms, Schubert Beethoven songs at NU May 15

Northwestern University's oldest student organization, "Die Dentsche Gesellschaft," German club founded in 1891, will present a public song recital of great Greman composers and poets at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday, May 15, in the Technological Institute auditorium on the Evanston campus.

Constance Merrell, Evanston, soprano, will sing songs by Beethoven, Brahms, Schubert, Schumann, and Wolf and will be accompanied by Jack M. Stein, pianist and faculty member of the Northwestern University German department specializing in the history of German music and literature.

The program will include an unusual group of three songs, each with the name and words of Goethe's poem, "Knowest Though the Land," and composed respectively by Beethoven, Schumann, and Wolf. The group demonstrates the variety with which music and poetry can be synthesized. Beethoven places the poem in a formal musical setting as it is believed Goethe would have preferred, Schumann in a highly emotional, romanticized music, and Wolf in an intensely individualized, personal style of music that has been judged the most successful.

Flowers rate tops for Mothers' Day

Are you curious to know Mother's preference in gifts for Her day, Sunday, May 12?

First choice was flowers with shoppers who were interviewed recently in Chicago's loop. Secondly her favorite gift for Mothers' day was a handbag or purse. Costume jewelry was third choice followed by lingerie.

In spite of shortages

Oleo still no substitute for butter

Americans showed little disposition to substitute oleomargarine for butter even under the most severe rationing of the latter food during 1945, articles in the Encyclopaedia Britannica Book of the Year just published reveal.

The American production of margarine during last year amounted to 591,000,000 pounds, compared with 588,000,000 pounds in 1944.

While these figures show a sizeable increase over the prewar consumption of margarine, they do not match the drop in natural butter production, according to the Britannica articles. In 1931 Americans consumed an average of 1.8 pounds of margarine annually, the 1945 per capita consumption was 3.9 pounds.

Before the war Americans consumed an average of 17 pounds of butter apiece each year. Last year's output of butter for civilian use came to approximately 1,427,000,000 pounds, or 11 pounds per capita. The 1945 butter production declined to the lowest point after 1925, the total output being 1,746,000,000 pounds compared with a pre-war average of 2,170,000,000 pounds per year. Government controls, directing milk into other products such as cheese, canned and dried milk were credited as major factors in that result, according to the Book of the Year. For milk production reached a new high record in 1945, three per cent above the previous record year 1943. Excellent pasturage, combined with abundant supplies of concentrated foods and a large number of cows on farms produced this record, and the total cash income of milk producers was also the highest ever.

Yet the seemingly paradoxical scarcity of butter amid the plenty of milk did not send housewives into grocery stores to buy appreciably more margarine. Despite the fact that margarine's average price during the year was 24.1 cents a pound, contrasted with an average price of 50 cents a pound for butter. High wartime salaries apparently made consumers prefer "all or nothing," and skimp on butter rather than calling for a substitute.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

ON STRIKE

We don't see any reason why a columnist shouldn't go on a strike the same as a steel worker, a coal miner, a dock worker or any other member of organized labor.

Of course, the columnists aren't organized, but what's the difference; we can walk out just the same. With everyone striking for higher wages, health security hospitalization and all the rest of it, why not a column writer.

If the government won't act to stop the coal strike and transportation is crippled so a reporter can't get around to cover his beat what then? Furthermore, we refuse to strain our eyes writing a column by candlelight. Enough is enough. Until conditions are materially improved "Tales of the Street" is on strike.

We can chase rabbits out of the garden and chop burdocks, but we're danged if we'll write a column until conditions improve. It's time the white collar worker and the farmer took a hand in things, so we're starting a movement. We've "walked out".

Democracy at work

Nip labor unions hold key to future of Japan

Japanese labor unions will determine in large part whether our occupation of the islands brings lasting democracy, according to Dr. Corwin Edwards, professor of economics at Northwestern University and member of an eight-man commission which recently completed a probe of Japanese industrial combines for the State Department.

"All the directives we can issue will do no lasting good unless we can develop in the islands enough strong groups which, like labor unions, stand to profit from a continuance of democratic ways and will fight for them after the allied armies pull out," Dr. Edwards said.

He pointed out that labor unions, suppressed during the war, have made substantial beginnings under the occupation. They are now striking and bargaining successfully for better wages and working conditions. "Strikes in Japan are unique," he explained. "The miners conducted a strike recently by locking out the management and then producing twice as much coal as before, while the street car employees struck by running the cars on schedule but refusing to collect fares."

Dr. Edwards believes that the sound economic future for Japan rests in the rise of small business, an increase in agricultural production, and less emphasis on foreign trade. "Part of Japan's foreign trade has been falsely supported by subsidies, cartels, and military expansion," he said. "With the ending of these artificial stimuli, foreign trade will decrease and the islands will tend to develop a less unbalanced economy."

Dr. Edwards defended the American policy under General MacArthur of working through the Japanese government during the occupation as "a brilliant move." He said it is extremely difficult for occidentals to understand Japanese customs and for the Japanese to understand our intentions. "By working through their government, however, each of us learns about the other and the burdens of the occupation are greatly reduced," he said.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

One of the top-secret agencies of the war was the Office of Strategic Services. International bankers, professors, ex-convicts, ministers, wrestlers, labor leaders, blueboods from the wealthiest families, explorers—all were among the ranks of this fabulous organization. Singly, they lived through some of the wildest adventures of the war.

LT. COL. COREY FORD

Their story, masked in mystery for so long, is told in "Cloak and Dagger," by Lt. Col. Corey Ford and Major Alastair MacBain.

The O.S.S. dropped agents behind enemy lines everywhere. They organized and aided underground movements, rescued Allied fliers, sent back invaluable information on enemy activities.

In London, an organization known as the "Moles" worked at perfecting native dress, forging false documents, supplying agents with plausible "cover stories." There have been many testimonials as to the excellence of their work.

One of these comes from an O.S.S. agent who traveled from Switzerland to Austria in the uniform of a German first sergeant, and returned with quantities of military intelligence, including information on 15 important military targets that had not yet been bombed. En route to Vienna, on a train crowded with German military personnel, he was ordered by a Nazi major to check the credentials of every other soldier on the train. The bogus sergeant tried to beg off, but the major told him not to talk back. Dutifully, he checked the entire trainful, and found to his own surprise, that most of them were AWOL, and heading in the wrong direction to duck the war. He turned in a couple, just to avoid suspicion.

Jim Corbett, author of the Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Man-Eaters of Kumaon," has a rare kind of patriotism. He first volunteered his services to his country in World War I. He was 39 and was told bluntly that he was too old. He kept at the authorities until he was commissioned and given the job of taking the 70th Kumaon Labor Corps to France. In 1939, when he was 64, he tried again, and the authorities still thought he was too old. Again he out-argued them. Up until he was taken ill with tick typhus, he recruited for the Civil Pioneer Corps 1,400 men from the hills of Kumaon. When he recovered from that illness, he spent two years training soldiers for jungle warfare in Burma.

It Happened Here

When He Sings

Hark to the thrasher when he sings!
From his treetop the golden notes he flings
North, south, east, west,
Up to heaven where choirs of the blest
Hearken the while and learn of him,
Recapturing notes grown weak and dim.
If one note falters from the choir,
Be sure the thrasher fashions it to his desire,
And singing, calls all heaven to hear

Redwings

Your generous allotment of space last week for the Redwing story is greatly appreciated. The largest crowd to ever watch an opener came out even though it was uncomfortably cool and extremely windy. Because of the turnout the team did not go into the red ink as is customary the first few Sundays each year.

We hope that you will continue to support us because we need a good crowd to meet our financial obligations. With good baseballs $22 per dozen, bats almost $3 each, umpires now $12, and visiting team's demands for a share of the receipts higher, it takes plenty of dimes, quarters and half dollars to keep a team operating every Sunday.

It is hoped that you will be able to find front page space each week for our article so that the many baseball fans in Arlington Heights and surrounding territory will always know what and how the Redwings are doing.

Youth Center

We, along with many other parents, greatly enjoyed the open house of the Youth Center last Wednesday. At this time we should like to remind the people of Arlington Heights that the Youth Center was "The Brain Child" of Dr. Matthew Faithe, a former high school teacher here, who 2½ years ago did much toward laying the ground work for this project. He was a teacher of unusual calibre and we are sorry he is no longer associated with the high school.

Wheat grain

I agree with James Tennery's letter in this column April 26th to a certain degree. Having lived as we did for several months in an Eleven unit court where most of the occupants were wives and children of army officers, and having seen not only half loaves of bread but many a nice piece of meat put into the garbage can and, after all this useless waste, we have seen many an empty beer and whiskey bottle going the same route. We didn't notice any of THEM thrown away only half emptied.

My opinion today is that if the people of this great country of ours really want to help feed starving and dying humanity, they should demand that congress get busy and see that all the available grain of America is turned into food making channels and let the distilleries and breweries set back and watch the God given grain do something besides create befuddled brains, educate youth to a life of crime, break up homes and cause misery, woe and sin in our land of plenty.

Let them watch us easily save the lives of millions of starving people with that grain they are now converting into a product that never did, and never will raise a Christian standard over any country. Christianity goes the limit to help raise all men to a higher level, wants to see them fed and clothed, while the liquor interests have kept many a family from having the bare necessities of life. Is it right that we, as a nation, should sell the souls of our young people into the hands of certain interests for a few paltry dollars? And doubly sad is the fact that they use the very essential God given food grains that are so badly needed today to feed a starving world.

I have had men try to hide behind that flimsy, thread bare excuse by telling me they could either take it or leave it alone. But I have yet to see the first man to prove to me that he can do it. Every one of them that says that DOESN'T LEAVE IT ALONE and they never will as long as we permit the stuff to be flourished before their eyes.

And I say all this after having read many of the smooth, misleading statements of The Wise (?) Old Judge, as he tries to side step the facts as God sees them.

Brahms, Schubert Beethoven songs at NU May 15

Northwestern University's oldest student organization, "Die Dentsche Gesellschaft," German club founded in 1891, will present a public song recital of great Greman composers and poets at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday, May 15, in the Technological Institute auditorium on the Evanston campus.

Constance Merrell, Evanston, soprano, will sing songs by Beethoven, Brahms, Schubert, Schumann, and Wolf and will be accompanied by Jack M. Stein, pianist and faculty member of the Northwestern University German department specializing in the history of German music and literature.

The program will include an unusual group of three songs, each with the name and words of Goethe's poem, "Knowest Though the Land," and composed respectively by Beethoven, Schumann, and Wolf. The group demonstrates the variety with which music and poetry can be synthesized. Beethoven places the poem in a formal musical setting as it is believed Goethe would have preferred, Schumann in a highly emotional, romanticized music, and Wolf in an intensely individualized, personal style of music that has been judged the most successful.

Flowers rate tops for Mothers' Day

Are you curious to know Mother's preference in gifts for Her day, Sunday, May 12?

First choice was flowers with shoppers who were interviewed recently in Chicago's loop. Secondly her favorite gift for Mothers' day was a handbag or purse. Costume jewelry was third choice followed by lingerie.

Card golfers lose openers

Arlington Heights high school golfers lost the opening two matches of their schedule, with another set-to played before this appears in print. The Cards teed off against Waukegan last week and bowed, 23½ to 6½, at the Mt. Prospect country club. The locals provided Waukegan's toughest opposition of the year for the big Suburban league school, with the Cards averaging 83 to the victors' 77.

Monday afternoon the Arlington men bowed again, this time to Niles, 12½ to 2½. Wednesday afternoon, May 8, the locals were scheduled to play at Leyden.

Remainder of the schedule includes the district meet Saturday at Arlington, Niles at Arlington May 16, Leyden at Arlington May 27, and the interclass meet June 1. All of the Cards' home matches are played at Mt. Prospect country club.

District ball play Monday at Arlington

Arlington Heights will be host to a section of the district baseball tournament next week starting on Monday. One sub district is at Arlington and the other at Waukegan. The winners will clash for the district title next Saturday, May 18.

At Arlington Heights the game Monday will be between Evanston and St. Marys of Des Plaines. On Tuesday Arlington will meet Hampshire and the Wednesday game will feature the Monday and Tuesday winners.

At Waukegan the host school will meet New Trier and Zion will play Gurnee in first round games.

Arlington Heights has been playing good ball and will have a chance in their own tournament. Little is known of Hampshire's strength but Evanston is not one of the best in the suburban league though good enough to be the tournament favorite. Over at Waukegan the winner of the opening game should come out on top and on the basis of results to date this may likely be New Trier.

Arlington Heights Golf league starts play

With some unusually fine scoring, the Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League opened its 1946 season last Friday night. Elmer Kraegel of Itasca shot a 36 for the low gross score of the evening, and Ralph Clabaugh had low net score with a 32.

Team standings after the first nights are:

	Points
Turf Billiards	6
Sieburg Drug Company	6
Park Lane Laundry	6
Arlington National Bank	5
Arlington Elev. & Coal Co.	4½
Arlington Bowling Lanes	4½
Eleanor Bake Shop	3½
Mar Johnson	3½

The Northwest Conference baseball race is becoming more complicated every week. Bensenville, the favorite, with a veteran team including a star battery has been tripped up by both Grant and Northbrook. Then Northbrook turned around and whipped favored Barrington 9-5 to get a tie for second. Grant has beaten Northbrook, Ela, and Bensenville to lead the league with three straight wins. There are still seven games to play and Bensenville still rates as good a chance as anyone if they just start getting a few hits behind their pitching ace, Thollander. Perhaps before this even goes to press Barrington may have knocked Grant from the league lead. It is just that kind of a race this year.

Antioch is track favorite

In track it looks more and more like Antioch will repeat their conference championship of a year ago but it will be mighty close. Palatine will score a lot but will be too short on first places to edge out Antioch if past performances are to be the basis for judgment. Barrington has a few good boys and would get the nod if Bennett could get back into a track suit to cop the sprints but this is still questionable. Bensenville has been strengthened but not enough to be a close contender though the points they get may turn the meet for someone. The league meet is scheduled for Wednesday, May 22 and will be a twilight meet starting at 6:00 p. m.

Niles wins a trophy at Proviso relays

Palatine man runs in Texas

We have a copy of a recent camp newspaper published at the navy technical training center at Corpus Christi, Texas, which tells of the feats of one Klaus Timmerhaus, a former Palatine track man. An article and a big picture of Klaus features his high school and Great Lakes track accomplishments as well as telling of his outstanding track work in Texas.

Klaus ran the anchor leg of the medley relay in the Texas Relays recently and starting with a 15 yard deficit won the relay for his team. In a dual meet recently Klaus, who has done his best work at a mile and two mile distances, clipped off a 1:58 half mile. At Great Lakes Klaus was second best man on the cross country team which went through a full season undefeated against the best teams in the country. He ran cross counry and ran the two mile on the track team at Illinois before going into the service.

Timmerhaus is the boy we featured in this column quite a few years ago following his victory in the mile at the Oak Park Relays. Klaus was so poor in track in his second year as a sophomore in high school that he seldom could cop a third place in a dual meet. Hard work, determination, and strict training helped him to set a Northwest Conference record in the mile as a junior. In his senior year he was a member of that Palatine cross country quintet which was undefeated in the suburbs in 10 cross country meets and took second in the all suburban invitational meet at Proviso. Others on the team were the individual champ, Jim Langhoff, Clarence Anderson, Donald Field and Clarence Vogt.

In the spring Klaus won the mile indoors at Oak Park's big meet but illness kept him out of more than half the regular outdoor season. At Illinois he plugged along against odds just as he did the first years in high school but Timmerhaus has what it takes. He is not only a fine competitor but also is the type of fellow who does not let anything stand in the way of giving his very best performance in anything he attempts. We were thrilled to hear that the navy kept him a whole year at Great Lakes to run on their track teams and we are very happy to know of his outstanding success in Texas.

Antioch defeats Pirates in dual

Antioch defeated Palatine in a dual meet last Wednesday afternoon 62-51. Dan Jones won three first places and anchored the relay team for a total of 16¼ points for the winners. Mattson scored 13 points. Antioch got eight first places to Palatine's five. Henker and Muehlfelt each scored eight points for Palatine.

Northbrook knocks Bronchos from league lead

Northbrook knocked Barrington out of the Northwest Conference lead last Friday by plastering a 9-4 defeat on the Bronchos. The game was a comedy of errors with a total of 13 of which Barrington was guilty of seven. Errors figured in every run scored in the game. Bizer of Northbrook and Flock of Barrington each hit safely twice in three trips. Dietrich struck out 11 for the Bronchos but got poor support in he pinches.

Four NW and NE boys to play all-star

Coaches to pick men from local conferences

By TOMMY KOUZMANOFF

Each of the all-star high school teams which will clash on the spectacular twin bill that matches the Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first game July 1 at Wrigley Field will be composed of seventeen players.

The squads will be well balanced in that each will have six infielders, five outfielders, two catchers and four pitchers.

This is the most important announcement yet regarding the colorful doubleheader that will bring before the fans for the first time high school baseball's "dream game"—the City League All-Stars vs. the Chicago Area All-Stars. The players will be selected by the coaches, themselves, by a comprehensive poll.

City League coaches will be asked to select an all-star team for their respective sections (there are four—North, South, Central and West), then designate four outstanding players for the City League All-Stars. The 17th player will come from the section coming up with the league champion in regular league play.

Chicago Area All-Stars will be formed in the same manner with one exception—the squad will be apportioned as follows: Five players from the Suburban League, three from the Private School League, three from the South Suburban League, two from the Catholic League, two from the Northeast Conference and two from the Northwest loop.

There is only one eligibility rule: Players named for the City League All-Stars and the Chicago Area All-Stars must be graduating seniors or 4-B's who do not plan to participate in high school sports the remaining half of their school year.

Down at the Proviso Relays this past Saturday Niles' speedy relay teams took home a second place trophy in the class B 880 yard relay. The Trojans took a fourth place in the open class 440 yard relay and totaled 12 points for the meet. Leyden took a fifth place in the medley relay in class B for two points while Crystal Lake scored 8½ by getting a fifth in the 880 relay, a second by Legel in he discus, and a third by Green in the shot put. Trophies are given at the Proviso meet to the team which finishes first, second or third in each relay.

We have a copy of a recent camp newspaper published at the navy technical training center at Corpus Christi, Texas, which tells of the feats of one Klaus Timmerhaus, a former Palatine track man. An article and a big picture of Klaus features his high school and Great Lakes track accomplishments as well as telling of his outstanding track work in Texas.

Klaus ran the anchor leg of the medley relay in the Texas Relays recently and starting with a 15 yard deficit won the relay for his team. In a dual meet recently Klaus, who has done his best work at a mile and two mile distances, clipped off a 1:58 half mile. At Great Lakes Klaus was second best man on the cross country team which went through a full season undefeated against the best teams in the country. He ran cross counry and ran the two mile on the track team at Illinois before going into the service.

Timmerhaus is the boy we featured in this column quite a few years ago following his victory in the mile at the Oak Park Relays. Klaus was so poor in track in his second year as a sophomore in high school that he seldom could cop a third place in a dual meet. Hard work, determination, and strict training helped him to set a Northwest Conference record in the mile as a junior. In his senior year he was a member of that Palatine cross country quintet which was undefeated in the suburbs in 10 cross country meets and took second in the all suburban invitational meet at Proviso. Others on the team were the individual champ, Jim Langhoff, Clarence Anderson, Donald Field and Clarence Vogt.

In the spring Klaus won the mile indoors at Oak Park's big meet but illness kept him out of more than half the regular outdoor season. At Illinois he plugged along against odds just as he did the first years in high school but Timmerhaus has what it takes. He is not only a fine competitor but also is the type of fellow who does not let anything stand in the way of giving his very best performance in anything he attempts. We were thrilled to hear that the navy kept him a whole year at Great Lakes to run on their track teams and we are very happy to know of his outstanding success in Texas.

Antioch defeats Pirates in dual

Antioch defeated Palatine in a dual meet last Wednesday afternoon 62-51. Dan Jones won three first places and anchored the relay team for a total of 16¼ points for the winners. Mattson scored 13 points. Antioch got eight first places to Palatine's five. Henker and Muehlfelt each scored eight points for Palatine.

Northbrook knocks Bronchos from league lead

Northbrook knocked Barrington out of the Northwest Conference lead last Friday by plastering a 9-4 defeat on the Bronchos. The game was a comedy of errors with a total of 13 of which Barrington was guilty of seven. Errors figured in every run scored in the game. Bizer of Northbrook and Flock of Barrington each hit safely twice in three trips. Dietrich struck out 11 for the Bronchos but got poor support in he pinches.

Four NW and NE boys to play all-star

By TOMMY KOUZMANOFF

Each of the all-star high school teams which will clash on the spectacular twin bill that matches the Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first game July 1 at Wrigley Field will be composed of seventeen players.

The squads will be well balanced in that each will have six infielders, five outfielders, two catchers and four pitchers.

This is the most important announcement yet regarding the colorful doubleheader that will bring before the fans for the first time high school baseball's "dream game"—the City League All-Stars vs. the Chicago Area All-Stars. The players will be selected by the coaches, themselves, by a comprehensive poll.

City League coaches will be asked to select an all-star team for their respective sections (there are four—North, South, Central and West), then designate four outstanding players for the City League All-Stars. The 17th player will come from the section coming up with the league champion in regular league play.

Chicago Area All-Stars will be formed in the same manner with one exception—the squad will be apportioned as follows: Five players from the Suburban League, three from the Private School League, three from the South Suburban League, two from the Catholic League, two from the Northeast Conference and two from the Northwest loop.

There is only one eligibility rule: Players named for the City League All-Stars and the Chicago Area All-Stars must be graduating seniors or 4-B's who do not plan to participate in high school sports the remaining half of their school year.

Choice seats for this unusual diamond attraction can be had now by mail order. Simply send money order or check, together with a stamped, addressed envelope, to Prep Ticket Manager, Room 205, 326 W. Madison St., Chicago 6, Illinois.

Arlington to be host Saturday to district golf

Arlington Heights High School will be host to the State District golf tournament Saturday at the Mt. Prospect Country Club with 13 schools entered in the meet.

About 110 golfers will tee off starting at 8:00 a. m. on the 18 hole medal play tourney with most of the large north side suburban schools listed among the entries. Each school may enter as many men as they wish but their high four men are the ones whose score counts for the team total. For several years the tournament has been held at McHenry. New Trier is defending champion.

Schools entered include the following: McHenry, Maine Township, Evanston, Highland Park, Waukegan, Oak Park, New Trier, Northbrook, Elgin, Crystal Lake, Niles Township, Leyden and Arlington Heights.

Scotties trounce Walther League in softball

Led by Colonca's one hit pitching Scotties whipped the Walther League by a 11 to 0 count. Wheeling's well balanced team completely outclassed the Arlington Walther League squad.

Monday evening the American Legion and V. F. W. of Arlington played to a 4 to 4 deadlock in 6 innings. Both teams played good ball for this early in the season. "Inky" Miller pitched for the Legion. Irv. Jiran did the chucking for the V. F. W. Mert Taylor played brilliantly in left field for the Legion.

May 9—Klehms vs. Mar Johnson.

May 12—Walther League vs. Du Page.

May 13—Scotties vs. V. F. W., Arlington.

May 16—Mar Johnson's vs. Nick's Fender Benders.

Bisons at 2-2 record

Grant has inside track at halfway mark of NW conference baseball

by G. A. McELROY

Grant seems to have the inside track in the Northwest Conference baseball race to date with a perfect record of four victories and winless Wauconda as their remaining opponent in the first round of the schedule.

Tuesday Coach Werhan's Bulldogs whipped Barrington 2-1 behind the two hit twirling of Klaus. It was Barrington's second straight setback as Northbrook walloped the Bronchs 9-4 last Friday. In Tuesday's game neither team tallied until the fifth when a triple by Jack Flock produced a run for Barrington. Then in the last half of the sixth with two out a couple of bad throws by Flock at third base helped Grant score a pair of runs and take the game.

Vikings win in extra inning 6-4

Northbrook outhit Wauconda Tuesday 12 to 6 but had to play an extra inning to down the last placers 6-4. The victory kept Northbrook a game behind Grant with a 3-1 record.

Bisons start hitting; win 9-1

Bensenville finally started hitting the ball behind the fine mound work of Thollander and a 9-1 victory over Ela was the result. The Bisons with a 2-2 record meet Barrington with a similar record at Bensenville on Friday. The loser is completely out of the running in the league at the half way mark. At the start of the season this was supposed to be a game to determine the league lead instead of to stay above the .500 mark.

Games Friday find the following setup: Grant at Wauconda, Northbrook at Ela, and Barrington at Bensenville. Next Tuesday, May 14, the second round opens with Ela at Barrington, Bensenville at Wauconda, and Grant at Northbrook.

Palatine and Barrington tied with 57½ points apiece while Grant collected 26 in a triangular meet held at Palatine Monday evening. The Bronchos took seven first places in a 13 event program but at that the Pirates were leading by four points going into the final event, the 880 relay. Barrington won the relay and Grant beat Palatine out for second so Palatine had to be content with a tie.

Bennett returned to the Barrington team and took the 100 in :10.7 and the 220 in :23.8. Lund ran a 2:12.8 half mile and Bell a :56.5 quarter mile for other good Barrington marks. Howes was double winner for Palatine in the discus and pole vault. Schaper of Grant took the high jump at five feet five.

Results of the meet give some idea of how closely contested the conference meet will be on Wednesday, May 22, when it is held at Palatine. Antioch has beaten both Palatine and Barrington but not by any great margin. Barrington beat Bensenville a week ago by one point.

Summary

Cards drop close one on Leyden field, 4-3

by EMERY BAXTER

The Arlington Cardinals lost a tight baseball game last Friday at Leyden, 4-3.

It was a slightly changed lineup that faced Leyden. In place of Barton Dahlstrom, who was ill, was Howie Haseman. George Payne replaced Jack McArdle in right.

As usual, the Cards scored in the first inning. After two were out, Ozzie Aldrich walked, stole second, and went to third when the catcher overthrew second. He scored when Bach drove a single into center.

Leyden, however, came right back in the last half of the first with a run of their own. Bollig singled, stole second, went to third when the catcher threw the ball into centerfield and scored on a wild pitch.

Cards revive

In the third, the Cards came back with two more runs. Bob Wille led off with a walk and went to second on Aldrich's single. Wille advanced to third while Bach was hitting into a forced play. Bach stole second, and both men scored when Griffith singled to left.

Leyden made it three to two in the last half of the sixth when DeNue singled, was sacrificed to second, and scored when Guetzloff singled to left.

In the disastrous last half of the seventh, Quaranta led off with an infield hit and stole second. At this point, Leyden inserted a pinch hitter, Grever, who drove a double down the left field line, fair by inches, scoring Quaranta. Gideon sacrificed Graver to third and that was all for Bach; he was yanked in favor of Bracke. Burton, attempting to bunt, fouled off two pitches and then on the third strike bunted a high pitch, laying down a perfect bunt to score Graver with the winning run.

Cards wallop Woodstock, 11-1

by EMERY BAXTER

The Arlington Cardinals rolled over Woodstock Tuesday on the Cardinals diamond by a score of 11-1.

On the hill for the Cardinals was Bill Robinson, freshman pitcher, who allowed one run on four hits, struck out 8, and walked only one.

In the first it was three up and three down for Woodstock.

In the last half of the first, the Cards got a run when E. Wille was safe on a fielders choice after Doellefield walked, went to second on a passed ball, stole third and scored when the third baseman threw away Hagenow's grounder.

Triple leads off

Ozzie Aldrich led off with a triple to start the third and scored on Bach's hit. Bach went to second on a fielder's choice, stole third and came home on Jack McArdle's single to center.

In the first half of the fourth, Olson singled, stole second, stole third and stole home.

The Cards came back in the last of the fourth with four runs of their own on four hits and a fielder's choice. The big blows of the inning were two doubles, one by Ozzie Aldrich and one by Bob Wille.

The fifth inning was the only inning in which the Cards failed to score. However, they came right back in the sixth with three more runs on four hits and two errors, all of the hits being singles.

The Cards made one unusual double play. With men on first and third, Woodstock attempted a double steal. Griffith whipped the ball to second to catch the first runner and Bob Wille whipped it back to the plate to complete the double play.

Scotties trounce Walther League in softball

Led by Colonca's one hit pitching Scotties whipped the Walther League by a 11 to 0 count Wheeling's well balanced team completely outclassed the Arlington Walther League squad.

Monday evening the American Legion and V. F. W. of Arlington played to a 4 to 4 deadlock in 6 innings. Both teams played good ball for this early in the season. "Inky" Miller pitched for the Legion. Irv. Jiran did the chucking for the V. F. W. Mert Taylor played brilliantly in left field for the Legion.

Following is the schedule:

May 9—Klehms vs. Mar Johnson.

May 12—Walther League vs. Du Page.

May 13—Scotties vs. V. F. W., Arlington.

May 15—V. F. W., Bensenville vs. American Legion.

May 16—Mar Johnson's vs. Nick's Fender Benders.

Hardwood Distillation

The total capacity of United States hardwood distillation plants is now estimated to be 1,377 cords per day, of which about 29 per cent is in the southern, 35 per cent in the eastern and 36 per cent in the north central region.

Bisons at 2-2 record

by G. A. McELROY

Grant seems to have the inside track in the Northwest Conference baseball race to date with a perfect record of four victories and winless Wauconda as their remaining opponent in the first round of the schedule.

Tuesday Coach Werhan's Bulldogs whipped Barrington 2-1 behind the two hit twirling of Klaus. It was Barrington's second straight setback as Northbrook walloped the Bronchs 9-4 last Friday. In Tuesday's game neither team tallied until the fifth when a triple by Jack Flock produced a run for Barrington. Then in the last half of the sixth with two out a couple of bad throws by Flock at third base helped Grant score a pair of runs and take the game.

Klaus of Grant fanned 11 while Deitrich of Barrington whiffed an unlucky thirteen. Barrington got two hits and Grant four.

Vikings win in extra inning 6-4

Northbrook outhit Wauconda Tuesday 12 to 6 but had to play an extra inning to down the last placers 6-4. The victory kept Northbrook a game behind Grant with a 3-1 record.

Bisons start hitting; win 9-1

Bensenville finally started hitting the ball behind the fine mound work of Thollander and a 9-1 victory over Ela was the result. The Bisons with a 2-2 record meet Barrington with a similar record at Bensenville on Friday. The loser is completely out of the running in the league at the half way mark. At the start of the season this was supposed to be a game to determine the league lead instead of to stay above the .500 mark.

Games Friday find the following setup: Grant at Wauconda, Northbrook at Ela, and Barrington at Bensenville. Next Tuesday, May 14, the second round opens with Ela at Barrington, Bensenville at Wauconda, and Grant at Northbrook.

CONFERENCE STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Grant	4	0	1.000
Northbrook	3	1	.750
Bensenville	2	2	.500
Barrington	2	2	.500
Ela	1	3	.250
Wauconda	0	4	.000

Results Tuesday

Grant 2, Barrington 1.
Northbrook 6, Wauconda 4.
Bensenville 9, Ela 1.

Friday

Barrington at Bensenville.
Grant at Wauconda.
Northbrook at Ela.

Palatine, Barrington tie in triangular meet

Palatine and Barrington tied with 57½ points apiece while Grant collected 26 in a triangular meet held at Palatine Monday evening. The Bronchos took seven first places in a 13 event program but at that the Pirates were leading by four points going into the final event, the 880 relay. Barrington won the relay and Grant beat Palatine out for second so Palatine had to be content with a tie.

Bennett returned to the Barrington team and took the 100 in :10.7 and the 220 in :23.8. Lund ran a 2:12.8 half mile and Bell a :56.5 quarter mile for other good Barrington marks. Howes was double winner for Palatine in the discus and pole vault. Schaper of Grant took the high jump at five feet five.

Results of the meet give some idea of how closely contested the conference meet will be on Wednesday, May 22, when it is held at Palatine. Antioch has beaten both Palatine and Barrington but not by any great margin. Barrington beat Bensenville a week ago by one point.

Cards drop close one on Leyden field, 4-3

by EMERY BAXTER

The Arlington Cardinals lost a tight baseball game last Friday at Leyden, 4-3.

It was a slightly changed lineup that faced Leyden. In place of Barton Dahlstrom, who was ill, was Howie Haseman. George Payne replaced Jack McArdle in right.

As usual, the Cards scored in the first inning. After two were out, Ozzie Aldrich walked, stole second, and went to third when the catcher overthrew second. He scored when Bach drove a single into center.

Leyden, however, came right back in the last half of the first with a run of their own. Bollig singled, stole second, went to third when the catcher threw the ball into centerfield and scored on a wild pitch.

Cards revive

In the third, the Cards came back with two more runs. Bob Wille led off with a walk and went to second on Aldrich's single. Wille advanced to third while Bach was hitting into a forced play. Bach stole second, and both men scored when Griffith singled to left.

Leyden made it three to two in the last half of the sixth when DeNue singled, was sacrificed to second, and scored when Guetzloff singled to left.

In the disastrous last half of the seventh, Quaranta led off with an infield hit and stole second. At this point, Leyden inserted a pinch hitter, Grever, who drove a double down the left field line, fair by inches, scoring Quaranta. Gideon sacrificed Graver to third and that was all for Bach; he was yanked in favor of Bracke. Burton, attempting to bunt, fouled off two pitches and then on the third strike bunted a high pitch, laying down a perfect bunt to score Graver with the winning run.

by EMERY BAXTER

The Arlington Cardinals rolled over Woodstock Tuesday on the Cardinals diamond by a score of 11-1.

On the hill for the Cardinals was Bill Robinson, freshman pitcher, who allowed one run on four hits, struck out 8, and walked only one.

In the first it was three up and three down for Woodstock.

In the last half of the first, the Cards got a run when E. Wille was safe on a fielders choice after Doellefield walked, went to second on a passed ball, stole third and scored when the third baseman threw away Hagenow's grounder.

In the second, the Cards picked up another run on two errors, a stolen base and a wild pitch.

Triple leads off

Ozzie Aldrich led off with a triple to start the third and scored on Bach's hit. Bach went to second on a fielder's choice, stole third and came home on Jack McArdle's single to center.

In the first half of the fourth, Olson singled, stole second, stole third and stole home.

The Cards came back in the last of the fourth with four runs of their own on four hits and a fielder's choice. The big blows of the inning were two doubles, one by Ozzie Aldrich and one by Bob Wille.

The fifth inning was the only inning in which the Cards failed to score. However, they came right back in the sixth with three more runs on four hits and two errors, all of the hits being singles.

The Cards made one unusual double play. With men on first and third, Woodstock attempted a double steal. Griffith whipped the ball to second to catch the first runner and Bob Wille whipped it back to the plate to complete the double play.

The Cards end their conference season at home Friday in a game with Niles. Their conference record is now 5 and 2 and their season's record 6 and 2.

Seek men for radar

More than 1,800 veterans — and other civilians — who learned to be aircraft and radar maintenance and repair men during the war will have a chance to use these skills in well-paying, responsible jobs in the Far Pacific, Cleo C. Liepitz, manager of the United States Employment Service office at 5306 W. Lawrence Avenue, said today. Such qualified men are needed at air bases in Japan, Korea, Hawaii, Okinawa, the Philippines and the Marianas, Mrs. Liepitz said.

The Pacific Air Command needs qualified aircraft and radar maintenance and repair men to replace air force personnel who are being discharged from the service. The chief duty of these civilian workers will be to supervise and instruct inexperienced civilian and military personnel in aircraft maintenance and repair.

Some of the positions the Pacific Air Command is especially anxious to fill Mrs. Liepitz said, are:

Radar Repair Supervisors.

Aircraft Propeller Technicians.

Telephone and Teletype Maintenance Technicians.

A minimum of nine months' employment is guaranteed for the Japan, Korea and Okinawa assignments, while the other assignments will last for a minimum of 12 months. Housing is available for all who qualify, and government restaurant facilities furnish good food at reasonable prices.

All of these openings are for men only, and no dependents will be permitted to accompany them, since housing is not available.

Gems of Thought

TODAY

Out of Eternity the new Day is born; Into Eternity at night will return.

—Thomas Carlyle.

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another.

—Richter.

To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, today is big with blessings.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

One of the illusions is that the present hour is not the critical decisive hour.

—Emerson.

The present moment is all we can call our own for works of mercy, of righteous dealing, and of family tenderness.

—George Eliot.

Build today, then, strong and sure
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.

—Longfellow.

Cleaning Gloves

If you find that cleaning fluid leaves gloves hard and dry, add a little paraffin to the cleaning fluid. Shave about three tablespoons of paraffin in a quart of non-inflammable cleaning fluid. When it is dissolved, immerse the gloves in the mixture. Gloves should be rinsed in more of the mixture, and then smoothed out to dry. When gloves are dry you can give them a nice luster by rubbing with a very soft cloth.

Sportsmanship rates high in track athletes

Coincident with the publication of requirements for track letters at Palatine high school two weeks ago, coaches Conrad and Creamer of Arlington Heights high school have released the following list of requirements for the award of a track award at the Arlington school.

Unsportsmanlike conduct has been listed as a cause of discrediting points earned toward a letter at Arlington high, in an effort to point out that conduct to the fellow-man is most important in development of character both on and off the athletic field.

Track letters will be awarded upon completion of any of the following qualifications:

Any one of the following conditions may qualify a person for an award (letter) if the individual has a satisfactory record for in practice, training, willingness to work, attending all meets and is not guilty of insubordination about school.

We also expect the athlete to be on the squad at the end of the season, expect him to go to meets when scheduled, or out because of injuries received in practice or competition.

The coaches, athletic director, and the principal of the school have final word in deciding whether a letter shall be awarded to an athlete (Notice: insubordination, unsportsmanslike conduct toward officials, players or teachers may forfeit earned letter).

Major A

Make an average of 2 points per met in dual or triangular meets. (Notice: example—You have to make 10 points in five scheduled dual or triangular meets), or

Place in a large meet, such as conference, district, state, or large invitational meet of 5 or more schools, or

Run on a relay team which places in large relay meets, as for example—the Palatine relays or other large relays. (Notice: this is not to include freshmen-sophomore relays), or

Frosh-Soph relays in large relay meets to count if the team places in first or second place where points are counted for the senior grand total, or

Points in fresh-soph meets will be counted toward a Major A in the following way: Each 7 points will be counted as 1 varsity point toward a letter up to a total of five varsity points.

Relay men may count as many points toward the letter as the relay team scores.

Minor A

The above general requirements and regulations shall apply to awards.

In dual and triangular meets the athlete must average 1 point per meet (1st or 2nd place in a large Frosh-Soph meet of 10 or more schools will earn a Major A.)

Any candidate for the Major A who didn't quite meet the requirements for Major A and meets all other requirements may be awarded the Minor A.

Numerals for freshmen

Freshmen may be awarded their numerals if they meet the above practice and general requirements and if the coaches think the boy has made suitable progress in the events he is training for.

Cards outrun Crystal Lake

Arlington's varsity trackmen mauled Crystal Lake badly last week, Tuesday, in a dual meet when the locals notched 79 to the Lakers 35.

Busse led his teammates with three firsts including creditable showings of :10.6 in the 100, :16.5 in the 120 high hurdles, and :24.4 in the 200 lows. Rypkema with two seconds and a first was runner-up with 11 points. He won the 220 in :24.2.

The Lakers took just three firsts, all in the field events. Green, Legel and Whitehead won the shot, discus and pole vault, respectively, the three boys accounting for 22 of Crystal Lake's tallies.

Niles cinches NE conference baseball title

Niles clinched the Northeast Conference baseball championship last Friday when they whipped Woodstock 7-1 for their seventh straight victory as Arlington was being dumped by Leyden 4-3. Bien, on the mound for Niles, was nicked for six hits but kept them scattered while Niles tallied seven runs on two hits which came at opportune times in among numerous walks and errors.

Thursday Niles downed Warren 6-3 behind the twirling and hitting of John Lane. Niles will play against Morton next week in the Oak Park district tournament.

The Niles Trojans were idle Tuesday while Arlington was whipping Woodstock 11-1 and Leyden was taking the measure of Warren 8-3. Friday Niles plays at Arlington and the title is in their pocket regardless of the result though the Trojans are favored to make it eight in a row. Warren also closes the season Friday against winless Woodstock. Warren's only league victory was at Woodstock's expense in the first round. Leyden is idle having closed their season Tuesday.

Niles plays Morton and Leyden takes on the Suburban League leader, Oak Park, in opening rounds of the district tournament next week at Oak Park.

Profitable Tilling

In general livestock areas, year-to-year earnings tend to be higher where from 15 to 25 per cent of the tillable land is kept in legumes and grasses.

Arlington beats Leyden frosh sophs, 62-41

Arlington Heights freshmen-sophomore track team looked good in its defeat of a strong Leyden team, 62-41. There were some exceptional marks made in this meet. Clark of Leyden ran the 100 yard dash in :10.5, and came back to chalk up the phenomenal time of :23.7 in the 220 yard dash.

Shanley of Arlington showed real class in his 118' 11" thrown in the discus. Heimsoth scored 19 points for Arlington.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS!
Here's work you'll like!

That first job after graduation can be the beginning of your career—if it's the right one! Mine is. I went from school to a switchboard at Illinois Bell. I learned an interesting, friendly job serving our community.
I received full pay while training, though I had no experience. Increases are regular. There's a good chance for advancement on this steady job.
People are more than helpful, they're friendly! And surroundings are clean, pleasant, and safe.
Many of the girls I graduated with are at Illinois Bell, too. So we still have sodas after work, and get together for an evening's fun.
Interested? Come in anytime. We would like to tell you more about the opportunities you'll have as a telephone operator.
NEW HIGHER WAGES—Your starting wage for a five day week—$28.00, or $121.80 per month, with regular increases every three months during the first year. These earnings may be further increased by extra payment for duty at certain hours of the day.

Seek men for radar

More than 1,800 veterans — and other civilians — who learned to be aircraft and radar maintenance and repair men during the war will have a chance to use these skills in well-paying, responsible jobs in the Far Pacific, Cleo C. Liepitz, manager of the United States Employment Service office at 5306 W. Lawrence Avenue, said today. Such qualified men are needed at air bases in Japan, Korea, Hawaii, Okinawa, the Philippines and the Marianas, Mrs. Liepitz said.

The Pacific Air Command needs qualified aircraft and radar maintenance and repair men to replace air force personnel who are being discharged from the service. The chief duty of these civilian workers will be to supervise and instruct inexperienced civilian and military personnel in aircraft maintenance and repair.

Some of the positions the Pacific Air Command is especially anxious to fill Mrs. Liepitz said, are:

Radar Repair Supervisors.

Aircraft Propeller Technicians.

Telephone and Teletype Maintenance Technicians.

A minimum of nine months' employment is guaranteed for the Japan, Korea and Okinawa assignments, while the other assignments will last for a minimum of 12 months. Housing is available for all who qualify, and government restaurant facilities furnish good food at reasonable prices.

All of these openings are for men only, and no dependents will be permitted to accompany them, since housing is not available.

Gems of Thought

TODAY

Out of Eternity the new Day is born; Into Eternity at night will return.

—Thomas Carlyle.

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another.

—Richter.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

—Emerson.

The present moment is all we can call our own for works of mercy, of righteous dealing, and of family tenderness.

—George Eliot.

Build today, then, strong and sure
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.

—Longfellow.

Cleaning Gloves

If you find that cleaning fluid leaves gloves hard and dry, add a little paraffin to the cleaning fluid. Shave about three tablespoons of paraffin in a quart of non-inflammable cleaning fluid. When it is dissolved, immerse the gloves in the mixture. Gloves should be rinsed in more of the mixture, and then smoothed out to dry. When gloves are dry you can give them a nice luster by rubbing with a very soft cloth.

At Arlington

Sportsmanship rates high in track athletes

Coincident with the publication of requirements for track letters at Palatine high school two weeks ago, coaches Conrad and Creamer of Arlington Heights high school have released the following list of requirements for the award of a track award at the Arlington school.

Unsportsmanlike conduct has been listed as a cause of discrediting points earned toward a letter at Arlington high, in an effort to point out that conduct to the fellow-man is most important in development of character both on and off the athletic field.

Track letters will be awarded upon completion of any of the following qualifications:

Any one of the following conditions may qualify a person for an award (letter) if the individual has a satisfactory record for in practice, training, willingness to work, attending all meets and is not guilty of insubordination about school.

We also expect the athlete to be on the squad at the end of the season, expect him to go to meets when scheduled, or out because of injuries received in practice or competition.

The coaches, athletic director, and the principal of the school have final word in deciding whether a letter shall be awarded to an athlete (Notice: insubordination, unsportsmanslike conduct toward officials, players or teachers may forfeit earned letter).

Major A

Make an average of 2 points per met in dual or triangular meets. (Notice: example—You have to make 10 points in five scheduled dual or triangular meets), or

Place in a large meet, such as conference, district, state, or large invitational meet of 5 or more schools, or

Run on a relay team which places in large relay meets, as for example—the Palatine relays or other large relays. (Notice: this is not to include freshmen-sophomore relays), or

Frosh-Soph relays in large relay meets to count if the team places in first or second place where points are counted for the senior grand total, or

Points in fresh-soph meets will be counted toward a Major A in the following way: Each 7 points will be counted as 1 varsity point toward a letter up to a total of five varsity points.

Relay men may count as many points toward the letter as the relay team scores.

Minor A

The above general requirements and regulations shall apply to awards.

In dual and triangular meets the athlete must average 1 point per meet (1st or 2nd place in a large Frosh-Soph meet of 10 or more schools will earn a Major A.)

Any candidate for the Major A who didn't quite meet the requirements for Major A and meets all other requirements may be awarded the Minor A.

Numerals for freshmen

Freshmen may be awarded their numerals if they meet the above practice and general requirements and if the coaches think the boy has made suitable progress in the events he is training for.

Cards outrun Crystal Lake

Arlington's varsity trackmen mauled Crystal Lake badly last week, Tuesday, in a dual meet when the locals notched 79 to the Lakers 35.

Busse led his teammates with three firsts including creditable showings of :10.6 in the 100, :16.5 in the 120 high hurdles, and :24.4 in the 200 lows. Rypkema with two seconds and a first was runner-up with 11 points. He won the 220 in :24.2.

The Lakers took just three firsts, all in the field events. Green, Legel and Whitehead won the shot, discus and pole vault, respectively, the three boys accounting for 22 of Crystal Lake's tallies.

Niles cinches NE conference baseball title

Niles clinched the Northeast Conference baseball championship last Friday when they whipped Woodstock 7-1 for their seventh straight victory as Arlington was being dumped by Leyden 4-3. Bien, on the mound for Niles, was nicked for six hits but kept them scattered while Niles tallied seven runs on two hits which came at opportune times in among numerous walks and errors.

Thursday Niles downed Warren 6-3 behind the twirling and hitting of John Lane. Niles will play against Morton next week in the Oak Park district tournament.

The Niles Trojans were idle Tuesday while Arlington was whipping Woodstock 11-1 and Leyden was taking the measure of Warren 8-3. Friday Niles plays at Arlington and the title is in their pocket regardless of the result though the Trojans are favored to make it eight in a row. Warren also cioses the season Friday against winless Woodstock. Warren's only league victory was at Woodstock's expense in the first round. Leyden is idle having closed their season Tuesday.

Niles plays Morton and Leyden takes on the Suburban League leader, Oak Park, in opening rounds of the district tournament next week at Oak Park.

Profitable Tilling

In general livestock areas, year-to-year earnings tend to be higher where from 15 to 25 per cent of the tillable land is kept in legumes and grasses.

Arlington beats Leyden frosh sophs, 62-41

Arlington Heights freshmen-sophomore track team looked good in its defeat of a strong Leyden team, 62-41. There were some exceptional marks made in this meet. Clark of Leyden ran the 100 yard dash in :10.5, and came back to chalk up the phenomenal time of :23.7 in the 220 yard dash.

Shanley of Arlington showed real class in his 118' 11" thrown in the discus. Heimsoth scored 19 points for Arlington.

Home gardening

Green beans are one of the most popular and one of the easiest crops to grow in the home garden. They grow rapidly and reach edible maturity in 60 to 65 days after the seeds are planted. They are delicious when boiled fresh or when canned or frozen. They should have a place in every home garden, large or small.

The term green bean has been designated by the committee on nomenclature of the American Seed Trade Association to replace the terms stringless bean and snap bean which have been used for the newer varieties that do not have the fibrous stringy ventral of the pods which marked all of the older varieties used several years ago. The yellow-colored pod varieties will be called simply wax beans.

Among the green beans and wax beans there are low-growing or bush types and tall-growing or pole types. Among these are varieties having flattened, oval and round pods. The varieties also differ in leaf characters, yielding ability, color of seeds and many other ways.

Bush-type green beans

Among the bush-type green beans having round and fleshy pods are Tendergreen, Burpee's Stringless Green Pod, Landreths Stringless, Green Stringless, Black Valentine, Streamliner and several variations of Refugee. Plentiful is an oval-podded variety, and the once-popular Bountiful has distinctly flattened pods. Among the bush-type wax beans having round fleshy pods are Pencil Pod Black Wax and Round Pod Kidney Wax which is also called Brittle Wax. Sure Crop and Unrivaled Wax are flat-podded wax varieties.

Beans are rapidly growing, tender plans. The seeds should not be planted until all danger of frost is past, but the first planting should be made as soon thereafter as possible. Successive plantings may be made at two- or three-week intervals until early June. Two plantings may again be made in the late summer or early fall.

Beans do best on a soil that is well drained and fairly fertile. It is a mistake to think that they do best on poor, unfertile soils. In small urban gardens where space is limited, the rows of beans may be only 18-20 inches apart, but 24 inches is much better. In horse-or tractor-cultivated gardens, the rows should be 30-36 inches apart. The seeds should be planted at the rate of six or eight per foot in furrows one to two inches deep, according to the type and condition of the soil. Some gardeners prefer to plant them in eight- to 10 inch hills with three to four seeds to the hill. The size of the bean seed varies, but on the average there are 94 seeds per ounce. Thus one-half pound should be enough to plant 100 feet of row.

Top Off Housecleaning

The top of closets and the house doors, tops of window frames, moldings, pictures and mirrors should be as much a part of your cleaning program as the more visible places lower down. A monthly once-over with soap and water will prevent embarrassment and eliminate the strenuous old-fashioned kind of semi-annual housecleaning.

Home gardening

Green beans easy to grow here

Green beans are one of the most popular and one of the easiest crops to grow in the home garden. They grow rapidly and reach edible maturity in 60 to 65 days after the seeds are planted. They are delicious when boiled fresh or when canned or frozen. They should have a place in every home garden, large or small.

The term green bean has been designated by the committee on nomenclature of the American Seed Trade Association to replace the terms stringless bean and snap bean which have been used for the newer varieties that do not have the fibrous stringy ventral of the pods which marked all of the older varieties used several years ago. The yellow-colored pod varieties will be called simply wax beans.

Among the green beans and wax beans there are low-growing or bush types and tall-growing or pole types. Among these are varieties having flattened, oval and round pods. The varieties also differ in leaf characters, yielding ability, color of seeds and many other ways.

Bush-type green beans

Among the bush-type green beans having round and fleshy pods are Tendergreen, Burpee's Stringless Green Pod, Landreths Stringless, Green Stringless, Black Valentine, Streamliner and several variations of Refugee. Plentiful is an oval-podded variety, and the once-popular Bountiful has distinctly flattened pods. Among the bush-type wax beans having round fleshy pods are Pencil Pod Black Wax and Round Pod Kidney Wax which is also called Brittle Wax. Sure Crop and Unrivaled Wax are flat-podded wax varieties.

Beans are rapidly growing, tender plans. The seeds should not be planted until all danger of frost is past, but the first planting should be made as soon thereafter as possible. Successive plantings may be made at two- or three-week intervals until early June. Two plantings may again be made in the late summer or early fall.

Beans do best on a soil that is well drained and fairly fertile. It is a mistake to think that they do best on poor, unfertile soils. In small urban gardens where space is limited, the rows of beans may be only 18-20 inches apart, but 24 inches is much better. In horse-or tractor-cultivated gardens, the rows should be 30-36 inches apart. The seeds should be planted at the rate of six or eight per foot in furrows one to two inches deep, according to the type and condition of the soil. Some gardeners prefer to plant them in eight- to 10 inch hills with three to four seeds to the hill. The size of the bean seed varies, but on the average there are 94 seeds per ounce. Thus one-half pound should be enough to plant 100 feet of row.

Top Off Housecleaning

The top of closets and the house doors, tops of window frames, moldings, pictures and mirrors should be as much a part of your cleaning program as the more visible places lower down. A monthly once-over with soap and water will prevent embarrassment and eliminate the strenuous old-fashioned kind of semi-annual housecleaning.

Are you one of those many youths who would like a bike — who want to enter our contest but cannot do so because you do not have the land on which to grow pickles? If you are — your worries are over.

Mayfair will provide the land on which you can grow pickles! Yes, we will furnish you with a place to grow — a place substantial enough to make you a real threat for that bike that we shall give away each week.

In the near future we will be hiring regular factory help.

We suggest any interested future workers telephone us at Arlington Heights 2240 or visit our plant office for particulars.

Your FURS Need Protection

Against

WEAR –

CLEAN at least once a year to prevent matting, which is the first sign of fur wearing out. GLAZE to straighten fur and bring back the original luster.

DETERIORATION –

FIRE AND THEFT –

It is advisable to secure an ALL RISK-YEAR-'ROUND INSURANCE policy. This will lower your storage charges and at the same time give you the year around fire and theft protection.

Your FURS Need Protection

WEAR—
CLEAN at least once a year to prevent matting, which is the first sign of fur wearing out. GLAZE to straighten fur and bring back the original luster.

DETERIORATION—

FIRE AND THEFT—
It is advisable to secure an ALL RISK-YEAR-'ROUND INSURANCE policy. This will lower your storage charges and at the same time give you the year around fire and theft protection.

A New Opportunity For Junior Gardeners

Are you one of those many youths who would like a bike — who want to enter our contest but cannot do so because you do not have the land on which to grow pickles? If you are — your worries are over.

Mayfair will provide the land on which you can grow pickles! Yes, we will furnish you with a place to grow — a place substantial enough to make you a real threat for that bike that we shall give away each week.

Call "Sonny" Klawans at Arlington Heights 2240 or drop in and see him at our plant for complete particulars.

In the near future we will be hiring regular factory help.

We suggest any interested future workers telephone us at Arlington Heights 2240 or visit our plant office for particulars.
